DEMOCRATIC CONVENTION OPENED

Chances Of Eliminating Two-Thirds Rule Grow Dim

SIXTY-EIGHT VOTES STILL ARE NEEDED

More Than 200 Votes Unaccounted for at Noon
But Result is Doubtful

BITTER FIGHT SEEN

New York Governor Lacking 106 Votes for Nomination for Presidency

BULLETIN
ALBANY, N. Y., June 27.—(UP)—Gov. Franklin D. Roosevelt late today directed his forces in Chicago to cease their efforts to abrogate the two-thirds rule for nomination of a presidential candidate.

The Governor's decision was made known in a telegram he sent to James A. Farley, his manager at Chicago.

CONVENTION HEADQUARTERS, Chicago, June 27.—(UP)—Roosevelt forces had not yet obtained sufficient pledges or promised votes in favor of changing the two-thirds nominating rule to assure success when the Democratic National Convention convened today.

For the nomination of their candidate had a clear majority, but he was still short in pledged, instructed or promised votes enough to nominate him if the two-thirds rule is not changed.

Figures based upon the result of caucuses and rolls of delegations on the question of the two-thirds rule stood as follows at 1 p. m.

In favor of retaining the two-thirds rule, 510.

In favor of abandoning the two-thirds rule, 403.

Two hundred forty-one votes out of the 1154 in the convention remain to be accounted for. Out of that number the forces in favor of retaining the rule need to obtain 65 votes to attain the 578 necessary for a majority, granting that they can hold all the votes they now have.

For the nomination, Roosevelt had today a total of 495 votes instructed or pledged and 169 more promised or considered definitely his for the nomination at that time stood:

For Roosevelt, 664.

Against Roosevelt, 417.

Seventy-three votes, including the bulk of Illinois' delegation, are not accounted for.

Roosevelt, on the basis of those figures, was still 106 short of the 770 required for nomination under the two-thirds rule, but 86 over the 578 required for a majority.

SENTENCE AMERICAN YOUTHS IN MEXICO

SAN DIEGO, June 27.—(UP)—Convicted of holding up a taxi driver near Agua Caliente, two American youths, will be sentenced to a Mexican prison by the Tijuana, Mex., court today.

Joseph Fisher, 16, of Belvidere, Calif., and Bert Welsh, 19, San Francisco, face terms of three years and fines of 700 pesos each.

APPROPRIATION BILLS BEFORE
SENATE TODAY

Action on Relief Measure
Expected to Be Taken
By Middle of Week

WASHINGTON, June 27.—(UP)—The Senate expected to clear two obstacles in the way of adjournment by passing appropriation bills today providing funds for government boards and commissions and the Treasury and Interior departments for the fiscal year beginning July 1.

Few items remained to be considered in the $7,000,000,000 independent offices bill, carrying funds for the commissions and the veterans' bureau. Senator Oddie, Republican, Nevada, in charge of the treasury-postoffice measure, said he would try to hold the Senate in session until it passed that bill, too.

Funds for government operations in the new fiscal year, beginning just four days hence, are provided in eight regular appropriation bills. Only one, the interior department bill, has been finally approved.

Congressional leaders hope to have all appropriations in effect before the new fiscal year begins.

Unemployment relief, most disputed issue before Congress, was to be tackled again by conferees seeking a compromise between the House and Senate $2,300,000,000 programs.

The conferees hoped the measure could be sent to President Hoover by the middle of the week. If he vetoed it, enactment over his veto or passage of a modified bill might be completed before Saturday night. A test vote in the Senate showed a 58 to 19 majority for the bond issue, well over the two-thirds necessary to override a veto.

Senator McNary, Republican, Oregon, planned to try again to break the deadlock between the House and Senate on the $150,000,000 government economy bill. He said he would ask reconsideration of the vote by which the Senate Friday ordered the bill sent back to conference.

RAISIN POOL DRIVE STARTED IN FRESNO

FRESNO, Calif., June 27.—(UP)—The California raisin pool drive to sign up 210,000 acres of raisin vineyards was under way throughout the San Joaquin valley today.

Six hundred workers, armed with last-minute instructions, were to canvass the growers in the pool's attempt to secure signatures from owners of 85 per cent of the state's raisin land.

A new contract, containing a clause giving the pool a lien on raisin land in event growers failed to observe the agreement, was to be presented to landowners for their approval.

The drive, pool officials explained, was believed to give the pool sufficient control of the crop to stabilize the raisin market.

U. S. NAVY FLIERS SAFE IN EL PASO

EL PASO, Tex., June 27.—(UP)—Two U. S. navy fliers who wandered for 36 hours in the arid mountains north of Chihuahua City, Mexico, without food and water, were safe today in El Paso.

Lieut. Frank M. Nichols and Lieut. Edward B. Arroyo said empty gas tanks forced their landing in the state of Chihuahua, 215 miles south of El Paso after a rain storm caused them to lose their bearings Saturday en route from Tucson to El Paso.

They got off their course because their maps and charts were blown from the plane during the storm, they said.

Lindy Hoax Perpetrator Faces Jury

Arguments Heard on Defense Motion to Quash
Jury Indictment

FLEMINGTON, N. J., June 27.—(UP)—The trial of John Hughes Curtis, Lindbergh hoaxer, opened in a circus setting today and immediately adjourned to the private chambers of Judge Adam O. Robins where opposing counsel wrangled over a defense motion to bar one of the prosecutors.

The 102-year-old courtroom was jammed with curious farmers, housewives, reporters and photographers. At the prosecution counsel table, sat Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh, victim of Curtis' cruel hoax. Next to him was Colonel H. Norman Schwartzkopf, in charge of the hunt for the kidnapers and murderers of the Lindbergh baby.

At the defense table, was Curtis, sleek, dignified, confident. He talked to his 11-year-old daughter, Constance, and his two brothers. Nearby was Betty Gow, the Lindbergh nursemaid, dressed in white, demure, self-effacing. Her escort was Dollie Whately, the Lindbergh butler.

The street outside was jammed with motion picture camera men. The counters of the general store were ready for a land office business during recesses. Local bootleggers, their cars parked in side streets, circulated in the crowd, selling "off the hip."

Sheriff William B. Wean enlivened proceedings by chasing photographers out of the gallery.

The lawyers were wrangling over whether or not Harry L. Stout, Flemington lawyer, would be permitted to serve as special prosecutor. He was alleged to have conspired with Curtis when Curtis contemplated retaining him for the defense.

Judge Robbins finally ruled that Stout could serve, despite his former connection with the Virginia boat builder, and then heard arguments on a defense motion to quash the indictment.

ENDURANCE FLIER IS DECAPITATED

ROSEDALE, Miss., June 27.—(UP)—John Hunter, one of the four Hunter brothers who established an air endurance record at Chicago, two years ago, was killed today when he was decapitated by the propeller of a plane he was flying to New Orleans.

Hunter and two of his brothers, Kenneth and Walter, were piloting two planes through to New Orleans to establish an air line.

While his plane was on the ground preparing to take off, John Hunter climbed out on the wing to do some work on the motor, which was going. He lost his balance and fell into the steel propeller.

His body will be taken by train this afternoon to Sparta, Ill., for burial.

John and Kenneth Hunter established their record of 553 hours, 41 minutes between June 11 and July 4, 1930.

FAMOUS CHAPLAIN DIES IN NEW YORK

NEW YORK, June 27.—(UP)—The spirit of Father Francis Patrick Duffy, beloved chaplain of the "Fighting Sixty Ninth" of the wartime Rainbow division, has rejoined the thousands of men who died on the battle fields of France where he served them.

The priest's coffin of his old regiment was at the bedside until the end. Others through the nation and especially in New York, home of the old Sixty Ninth, mourned the chaplain who died at the age of 62.

Father Duffy will have a military burial. The old Sixty Ninth will attend the services Wednesday. Another veteran of America's wars, Mgr. John P. Chidwick, chaplain of the battleship Maine when it was blown up, will preach the funeral sermon.

CURTAIN RISES ON DEMOCRATIC SHOW

The Democrats' big circus at Chicago is under way at last. At the left is J. J. Shouse, chairman of the Democratic executive committee, chosen by the arrangements committee as permanent chairman of the convention, but opposed by the Roosevelt forces. Below are Keynote Alben W. Barkley (left), and John J. Raskob, chairman of the Democratic National Committee.

FOOD SHORTAGE IS BEING FELT BY BONUS ARMY

Veterans to Name Permanent Officers at Meet on July Fourth

WASHINGTON, June 27.—(UP)—A threatened food shortage worried the bonus expeditionary force today, while its leaders tried to end internal dissension and weld the encamped World war veterans into a solid and permanent organization.

Only $1389 was in the bonus army's mess fund. A few contingents have their own food supplies, but leaders said the fund would last only three days. A police census set the army's maximum at 10,000.

GASOLINE PRICES BOOSTED IN NORTH

SAN FRANCISCO, June 27.—(UP)—Retail gasoline prices were increased 2 1/2 cents a gallon in San Francisco today, and officials of the Standard and Union Oil companies declared the raise would be effective throughout the state by noon. Independents announced they would follow the movement.

The new scale boosted the price of gasoline in San Francisco to 18 cents a gallon for regular fluid, 15 cents for third rate and 21 cents for high test gasoline.

A 25-cent-a-barrel increase in the price of crude oil was given as the reason for the change.

SCHOOL CHILDREN FEEL DEPRESSION

CHICAGO, June 27.—(UP)—Even the grand old American schoolboys' game of "hooky" is showing the effects of the depression. Chicago public school officials disclosed today.

Superintendent William J. Hogan announced 540 fewer children played truant from school this year than the previous school term.

Seventh graders were the most prone to play "hooky," Hogan reported, and boys were nine times as apt to stay away from school as girls.

Price Of Gas In S. A. Up 21-2 Cents

Gasoline prices in Santa Ana took a two and a half cent jump at noon today, with announcement by all the major companies that the noon hour was the time given for increasing the price. Gasoline which has been selling for 12 cents now is retailing at 14 1/2 cents per gallon; standard white gas is retailing for 17 1/2 cents and ethyl gasoline went to 20 1/2 cents per gallon.

There were a few independent stations in the city still selling at the cheaper prices after the major companies had raised, but these were believed ready to fall in line within a few days, it was reported.

DELEGATES TO CATHOLIC MEET ARE ATTACKED

Pilgrims to Dublin Congress Injured on Way Home on Sunday

DUBLIN, June 27.—(UP)—A million pilgrims who attended one of the most impressive ceremonies in modern times here Sunday, were homeward bound today by steamer, train, motor and foot, some returning to districts where attacks by Orangemen were reported Saturday.

Scenes attendant to the pontifical high mass and procession of the blessed sacrament Sunday at Phoenix park have had few parallels. Thousands jammed the streets in an oppressive heat. First aid stations were kept busy. Efficient police organization prevented serious injuries.

Officials estimated the great throng would require at least a week to evacuate the city. There were 150 special trains on Sunday

DIRECT REPEAL FIGHT WILL BE ISSUE AT MEET

Smith Forces Will Carry Battle to Floor of Convention, Said

CONVENTION HEADQUARTERS, CHICAGO, June 27.—(UP)—The wet challenge hit squarely in the middle of the Democratic platform committee today with announcement that the fight to commit the party to repeal of the 18th amendment would be carried to the convention floor.

Senator David L. Walsh, Democrat, Massachusetts, a member of the platform drafting committee, announced he would make a minority report if necessary to obtain a floor vote on the propositions of committing the party to repeal and immediate revision of the Volstead act.

"If the committee favors merely a submission of the repeal question without pledging the party to

MONARCHY IN SIAM MEETING APPROVAL

BANGKOK, Siam, June 27.—(UP)—Absolute monarchy in Siam neared an end today as King Prajadhipok prepared formal approval of a constitutional monarchy which he favored before leaders of a swift and bloodless revolt demanded it.

The king and his queen, were received with the usual courtesy accorded royalty when they returned to the capital on a special train from Hunin, where they had been on holiday. Leaders of the revolt emphasized the monarchs were in no danger.

The king approved, in principle, a new draft constitution but asked that he be allowed to study the document. The king and queen received one civil and one military representative of the peoples party, which organized the revolt, when they reached the palace.

ELECTION OF TEMPORARY OFFICERS AND KEYNOTE SPEECH IS ORDER OF DAY

Conclave Formally Opened by Chairman John J. Raskob--First Test Vote Will Be Taken On Tuesday

ROOSEVELT REMAINS AT HOME

CONVENTION STADIUM, CHICAGO, June 27.—(UP)—Prospects of a knockdown fight stirred Democrats as they met in the first session of the 1932 convention today.

Grim uncertainty hung over the head of Gov. Franklin D. Roosevelt of New York. He is far ahead in delegates, approaching the two-thirds line. But the last few yards are tangled with barbed wire barriers and as the opening gavel struck it still was uncertain what his fate would be.

An hour before the convention was due to meet Roosevelt forces declared that they were going through with their fight to break down the century old two-thirds rule.

James A. Farley, Roosevelt manager, declared there would be no weakening. In spite of defections and grumbling among his southern delegations, the hard hitting manager was determined to stay with his fight.

Gov. William H. (Alfalfa Bill) Murray of Oklahoma was the first important convention figure to arrive in the giant stadium. Murray has his own state's 22 delegates plus the vote of his brother, a North Dakota delegate.

Roosevelt's most aggressive foe, Alfred E. Smith, will be ready for the fight of his career. The nominee of 1928, now fighting against overwhelming odds, is at the crossroads of his spectacular career.

Roosevelt forces have made abrogation of the two-thirds rule an issue upon which they appear to be staking everything. Their opponents are within about 70 votes of defeating them.

They lost ground today in one of their chief delegations, North Carolina, which decided for retaining the two-thirds rule.

The fighting for decisive votes still undetermined is going on. Every device is being used. Wavering delegates are even being taken into a private room to hear the voice of Gov. Roosevelt coming over an amplifier from Albany.

The principal business in the opening session was the keynote speech of Senator Alben W. Barkley of Kentucky.

The first test vote will come Tuesday on the fight of the Roosevelt leaders to make Sen. Thomas J. Walsh of Montana permanent chairman against J. J. Shouse.

Senator Pat Harrison, Mississippi, entered the hall wearing a Palm Beach suit and a worried look. His state is for Roosevelt, but he is re-

BICYCLES TAKEN AWAY FROM COPS

WASHINGTON, June 27.—(UP)—Washington's bicycle policemen maintained their place throughout years of this high speed age, but now have been disbanded in the interests of economy.

The District of Columbia commissioners discontinued the bicycle squad when congress declined to provide further funds for its maintenance. Eighteen of the 19 bicycle policemen have to go back to pounding the sidewalks as foot patrolmen. One was graduated to the motorcycle ranks. The bicycle squad received $50 a year more than regular policemen.

Foster had planned to address a group at music arts hall, but the meeting was called off when the manager of the building cancelled the permit.

Nevertheless, a small group of radicals started into the building chanting "we want Foster." Police reserves went into action, while 5,000 persons crowded Broadway to witness the excitement.

CALIFORNIA BONUS ARMY SEEKING AID

DALLAS, Tex., June 27.—(UP)—California's 1200 bonus marchers roared today at the State Fair grounds here while the "quarter-master department" sought donations of food and gasoline for another hop east.

In addition to 125 automobiles, the army boasts two airplanes. The latter flew direct from Sweetwater carrying A. C. Nelson, R. B. Benton and Burt C. Brewer, all of Los Angeles.

Leaders said the force expected to parade and remain here until tonight and perhaps tomorrow before resuming the march.

BARKLEY GIVES KEYNOTE TALK AT CONVENTION

Promises Solution of Prohibition Question and Tariff Revision

CONVENTION STADIUM, CHICAGO, June 27.—(UP)—Senator Alben W. Barkley of Kentucky sounded the keynote of the Democratic national campaign today with a caustic attack upon the Republican policies in the years of depression.

He promised a definite solution of the prohibition question through submission of a repeal proposal to state conventions.

To remedy economic evils, he pledged the Democratic party to work for:

Revision of the tariff in such a way as to protect American industry and agriculture and yet remove tariff barriers which foreign countries have erected against American commerce.

A program of aid for the farmer which would include an end to the present operations of the federal farm board.

A program of unemployment relief which, if necessary, would include adjustments to meet conditions imposed by the "machine age" and changing economic conditions.

Federal economy which would wipe out all unnecessary bureaus, commissions and activities.

COMMUNISTS HOLD UP L. A. TRAFFIC

LOS ANGELES, June 27.—(UP)—A "shin-kicking" fracas between asserted communists and police, which followed attempts of William Z. Foster, communist candidate for the presidency, to speak before a gathering, completely tied up downtown traffic for more than an hour last night.

Foster had planned to address a group at music arts hall, but the meeting was called off when the manager of the building cancelled the permit.

Nevertheless, a small group of radicals started into the building chanting "we want Foster." Police reserves went into action, while 5,000 persons crowded Broadway to witness the excitement.

BARKLEY GIVES KEYNOTE TALK AT CONVENTION

A long program of changes in the benefits and financial laws. The speech, it was understood, had been submitted to all leading Democratic candidates and had received their approval.

Prohibition

"It is manifest," Barkley said, discussing prohibition, "that a re-expression of the will of the American people on this great question is advisable and justified in the most direct and effective manner possible under the constitution."

He termed the Republican prohibition plank "a promiscuous conglomeration of scrap-lumber."

"Any play to revise the 18th amendment so it would remain in the constitution and yet be applicable only to states which might so elect, he termed destructive of the very nature of the constitution itself."

"Any restriction of the channels of stock market operations and expansion of those of commercial operations."

"Application to investment banking of the same quality of regulation now applied to commercial banking," including the divorce of banking institutions from stock market operations.

"Some reasonable form of workable and enforceable assurance against bank failures and against loss when failures occur."

Barkley played with sarcasm the farm aid policies of the administration.

The farm board, he said, "stabilized wheat from $1.25 per bushel down to 20 cents, corn from 75 cents per bushel down to 20 cents, cotton from 30 cents per pound down to five cents, wool from 20 cents per pound down to seven cents."

To aid agriculture he said he felt "warranted in giving assurance" that the Democrats would "attempt to remove from the shoulders of agriculture a portion of the unnatural burden which it bears."

Opening channels of trade, establishment of cooperative agencies, "through which the farmer may work out his own problems," relief of a character "so generously granted to other forms of industry and finance," and reduction of government expenses were some of the means of aiding agriculture which he proposed.

"We shall take the government of the United States out of dubious adventure of speculation in the products of the farm," he said, "with the activities of the farm board in mind."

Barkley began his speech with a review of present economic conditions which he attributed to "a combination of politics and business in politics—a combination of ineptitude in government and the cupidity of a certain type of business."

He paid tribute to Woodrow Wilson, ironically told of the Harding administration as the "era of normalcy," and that of Coolidge as the era of "economy and inflation." He blamed the abuses of the Coolidge era largely onto "the greatest secretary of the treasury since Alexander Hamilton and the greatest secretary of commerce in all history."

imum present strength at 12,000; the veterans claimed 21,200.

Contributions of food and money have nearly ceased. However, two carloads of food were said to have been dispatched yesterday by the Farmers' Holiday association of Iowa. It was not known how soon the food would arrive.

Executive and legislative committees tentatively set July 4 as the date of the convention at which the veterans will elect permanent officers and decide their policies. About 500 delegates are to be chosen to represent the various contingents of the army.

Most of the veterans seemed to be disposed to reflect Walter W. Waters of Oregon as commander in chief. He resigned Saturday because of differences with regimental leaders.

The convention will decide the form of the bonus seekers permanent organization. The legislative committee recommended the organization take in veterans of all wars and dedicate itself to promoting "the political, economic and social welfare of all the people."

With the convention will rest the formal decision as to whether the army shall prolong indefinitely its siege of the capital, or return home to emphasize the $2,500,000,000 bonus fight as an election issue.

luctant to see the two-thirds rule fight made.

Raskob at 12:46, formally opened the convention by presenting Commander Evangeline Booth of the Salvation Army for the opening prayer. She asked God's blessing on the convention which meets "in this tragic hour of the world's history."

After Miss Booth had completed her prayer Madame Rose Zuzallam of Massachusetts sang the Star Spangled Banner.

Edward N. Hurley, who was responsible for the bringing of both national conventions to Chicago, was called upon to introduce Mayor Cermak of Chicago for the usual speech of welcome.

Al Smith stepped into the arena at 1:12 p. m. He moved into a seat in the New York delegation as the Massachusetts delegation rose in their chairs and gave him three rousing cheers. Every one in the hall craned to see the party's spectacular figure but curiosity seemed to dominate them at the moment and the applause was brief.

Chairman Raskob ordered the official convention photograph taken.

Raskob then gave a brief word of greeting.

At the outset the impending fight over the attempt of Roosevelt forces to block selection of J. P. Morgan as permanent chairman came into the background. Raskob paid tribute to Morgan as "the master mind" in the management of party affairs during his regime.

He urged that the platform provide for a repeal plank on prohibition. He renewed his recommendation that this be accompanied by a pledge that all democratic members of the house and senate support such an amendment.

Isidore Dockweiler, retiring California national committeeman, read Jefferson's first inaugural address after Raskob's remarks.

In welcoming the delegates Mayor Cermak of Chicago, a Democrat, got in a few licks for the party.

"Millions of hungry men, women and children pin hopes on this convention," he said. "They're sickened by hypocrisy, empty promises and confused advice of those entrusted with responsibility. They expect us to assume leadership for relief."

The reading of the call for the convention by Robert Jackson, secretary of the national committee, preceded the election of temporary officers.

After reading of the convention call, slate of temporary officers headed by Senator Alben W. Barkley of Kentucky for temporary chairman was read.

The temporary officers were elected by acclamation and a committee was appointed to escort Keynote Barkley to the platform. The committee consisted of former Gov. Byrd of Virginia, former Gov. Nellie Ross of Wyoming and John W. Davis of New York, the 1924 candidate.

The crowd cheered as Barkley mounted the platform to the strains of "My Old Kentucky Home."

An outburst of cheering greeted his prediction that the nominee of this convention would be inaugurated President of the United States next March.

LA HABRA

LA HABRA, June 27. — Mrs. Henri Clayton and daughter Dory, are visiting friends in San Diego. Miss Edith Hill, of Long Beach, is spending her summer vacation with Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Bishop on Whittier boulevard. Miss Hill graduated this year from the Long Beach high school.

Observing the seventh birthday anniversary of Mrs. Louise Baldwin, a picnic party was held at Huntington Beach Thursday evening. Guests were Mr. and Mrs. Lester Baldwin and family, Mr. and Mrs. G. J. Karges and daughter, Elizabeth, of Whittier, and Ronald Scott.

Mrs. Clyde Millsap, of Corvallis, Ore., left his week for a visit to her old home in Iowa. She has been the house guest for several weeks of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Dunavant. Mrs. Dunavant and Mrs. Millsap were school mates in Iowa.

Mr. and Mrs. John Kruse, Mrs. A. Rode, Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Hains and son, Lloyd, of La Habra, spent Tuesday in Beaumont on the Hains ranch picking cherries. On Wednesday Mr. and Mrs. R. Lockmiller, of East Whittier spent the day on the ranch.

Miss Zilpha Savley and G. B. Gordon, representatives of the Christian Endeavor society of the Church of Christ here, spent last week at the Southern California Christian Endeavor service conference being held at Camp Bethel in San Dimas canyon.

BRUNETTE IS BLOND

LOS ANGELES—Mrs. Betty Lee Brunette, who incidentally is a very pretty blonde, secured a divorce from her husband because all he bought her in a year and a half of married life was one pair of shoes. Pilgrims arriving from northern Ireland for the final days of the congress had reported attacks and insults by Orangemen. A steamer carrying 1400 pilgrims from Larne was bombarded with bottles, stones and lumps of coal. Windows were broken. Many pilgrims were treated for cuts and bruises.

At Belfast, two policemen were injured when police charged a crowd of demonstrators who stoned street cars taking pilgrims to the railway station.

Orangemen at Donemana, County Donegal, seized and burned papal and congress flags and fired revolvers into the air. Holligans insulted pilgrims and pelted them with stones.

Women and girls knelt and prayed at Ballymena after several women had been knocked down and windows of a pilgrims' train had been stoned.

Cardinal Lauri, the papal legate, and 20 cardinals, archbishops and bishops, thousands of clergymen, and a choir of 2000 participated in the celebration of pontifical high mass. Count John MacCormack sang a solo. At the 70 foot altar Cardinal Lauri and his ministers performed the sacred rite. The spectacle at Phoenix park was the most elaborate of the congress. Through the center of the congregation ran a wide, festooned archway. Colonnades terminating in domed pavilions stretched on either side of the great altar. Loudspeakers were ranged along a central passageway so all could hear.

HALF MILLION DOLLAR SAVING IS PREDICTED

The total cuts of various school districts in Orange county may run as high as $500,000 or more in submitting their budgets for the county school budget this year, according to a statement made today by Ray Adkinson, county superintendent of schools.

The huge saving will be made possible through the efforts of boards of trustees in the various districts of the county through slashes made in their requests for funds for operation of schools this year.

No Definite Saving
While no definite figures are as yet available on the total amount requested by the districts, the figures will be available by July 5 when all district budgets must be in the hands of the county school superintendent.

Some of the districts have made as high as 15 per cent cuts in the budgets over the budgets of last year. Some have made even larger cuts.

Values on property are less this year than last and the natural decrease in assessments tends to lower the amount of money available from this source to the school systems, Adkinson pointed out.

File July 5
District budgets must be prepared by not later than July 1 and filed with the county school superintendent not later than July 5. If any changes or recommendations are made trustees should be notified in time for them to incorporate them in the budget which is published.

Hearings on the budget must be held in a schoolhouse of the district at a date to be specified by the school board, during the period of Saturday, July 16, to Tuesday, July 19, inclusive.

Resubmission of the budget by school boards to the county superintendent must be made not later than July 20. Submission of the budget to the board of supervisors by the county school superintendent must be made not later than August 5.

BURGLARS RANSACK TWO COUNTY HOMES
Two Orange county homes were burglarized over the week end, according to report filed with the sheriff's office.

The home of C. W. Todd, on Flower street, north of Santa Ana boulevard, was entered some time Saturday night while members of the family were away from home, and a number of small articles and food stolen. It was reported. A pass key was used on the front door to gain entrance, according to the sheriff.

An electric sweeper, a watch, a gold chain and a blanket, with a total value of $75 was removed from the home of Ben H. Bauman, Anaheim, Route No. 3, by a burglar who broke into the house early Saturday night, it was reported.

Entrance was made after a screen over a side window had been slashed, it was reported.

Local Briefs
Arvie Garrett, 28, and Violet T. Haggard, 24, both of Fullerton, have applied for a marriage license in Riverside.

R. Carson Smith, 1115 West Washington avenue, manager of Security Title Insurance and Guarantee company, and his head title man, A. G. Greene, left Saturday afternoon for Del Monte to attend the State and National Title Association convention in Hotel Del Monte from today to Friday, inclusive. Before returning to Santa Ana, Mr. Smith will stop in Santa Barbara for a short visit with his brother, Harold Smith, manager of the Carillo hotel of that city.

Police News
Isaac Cuens, 42, of 411 South Claudina street, Anaheim, was arrested by Anaheim officers last night and brought to jail here where he is booked for intoxication.

Esther Stafford, 19, and Howard H. Barker, 18, were arrested in Corona yesterday by officers there and returned to the county jail here by Santa Ana police officers, where they are booked for violation of parole. Both were wanted by the county probation department, it was said and will be turned over to that department.

Six Motorists Escape Death Twice

Six Los Angeles residents, all riding in a coupe, escaped death twice within a period of two minutes at 3:45 o'clock yesterday afternoon north of San Clemente.

The first brush with death occurred when a tire blew out, throwing the car off the highway and onto the Santa Fe railroad tracks. But beyond a few scratches, no one was hurt when the machine landed with a crash.

But the occupants, had no more than got out of the wrecked machine when a Los Angeles bound Santa Fe passenger train traveling at 60 miles per hour hit the empty car, scattering it to the four winds.

The car was driven by H. F. Graham. Passengers were E. N. Athons, Mrs. Graham, Pearl Prescott, M. Survaugh and John A. Schroeder.

The lucky motorists were given a ride to San Clemente, where they secured a bus for their return to Los Angeles.

Youth Shot While Hunting Rabbits
Florenca Valenzuela, 12-year-old Fullerton youth, residing at 214 East Truslow street, was shot through the right foot with a .22 caliber rifle, while hunting rabbits in the Santa Ana river bed near here late yesterday.

He was taken to the Orange county hospital, where it was said his condition was not serious.

Current Events make "STALE WILLS"

YOUR WILL affects the disposition of your Estate—not as it was when you made the Will, but as it will be when your Will is presented for probate.

Current events often have a vital effect upon the settlement of an Estate under a Will. Not only are there changes in tax laws, but very often the body of the Estate itself has been so affected by changed values that the Will as it stands is very far from expressing the real wishes of the man who made it.

A lawyer should draw your Will, or direct changes in its language. This Bank does not draw Wills. A talk with a Trust Advisor, however, may convey very valuable information as to its business features. Such a talk is readily arranged, and subjects you to neither a charge nor any obligation.

VAN WYK SEEKS COUNTY OFFICE. TELLS POLICY

Charles D. Van Wyk, rancher of Santa Ana for the past eighteen years, with the exception of one and a half years in the service during the World war, and a resident of Orange county since 1911, yesterday threw his hat into the political ring and climbed right in with it.

In making his announcement before a group of enthusiastic friends and supporters, Van Wyk pointed out that this was his first seeking of public office, and that his request for the position at this time was prompted by his desire to be of genuine service to Orange county.

Van Wyk said: "During the past 18 years as a rancher in Orange county I have taken a keen interest in county affairs and have watched with studied interest its management. My ideas of county management are comparable to those of the majority of the taxpayers of the county who at this time believe that a tendency toward bureaucracy in any public office is not conducive to the best interest of the majority of taxpayers. I believe that an open mind and an accessible office, together with the knowledge that the burdens of the taxpayers are already at the limit of endurance, will insure harmony, progress and economy."

Put On Brakes
"In this connection it has been my experience that the majority of any community will think straight, and along sane lines, if count myself in this majority wherein we all agree that tax reduction is a crying need. The only way taxes can be lowered, or prevented from going higher, is to put on the brakes now. Reduction in taxes is possible without jeopardizing either efficiency or progress. Red tape, individual aggrandizement and waste have no place in the management of public affairs; their elimination will go far toward bringing about more economical government."

"Perfect harmony between city and county officials is not only desirable but an absolute necessity. Bureaucratic tendencies in either governing body can result in nothing but a lack of co-operation with resulting hardship on the taxpayer of some district. It is my belief that tax money accruing to this county from the state treasurer should find their way to the disbursing officials of the various communities in such manner that all tax paying groups shall be on a parity.

Road Program
"The majority of taxpayers are fully aware of the necessity for a road program that will offer an inducement to the motorist. Our continued position as a leading community is in a large measure dependent upon our intelligent road building and maintenance program. This program should be approached with caution and careful planning, that it may be a source of help rather than a burden to the taxpayer."

"Unemployment during the present emergency presents a problem of divergence of funds from those departments and from those activities which, under existing laws, are transferable, and while undoubtedly progressive work may be temporarily halted, it is only a matter of the most good for the most people. Such a course is clear and can be accomplished without resorting to additional tax demands."

"If elected, I pledge my best efforts to the fulfillment of these plans."

ACCUSES MATE OF EXTREME CRUELTY
Charging extreme cruelty, Fyell, L. Ruth today filed suit for divorce against James Nelson in a complaint filed with the county clerk.

Ruth in a complaint filed with the county clerk, charged that her husband had slapped her, kicked her in the side, knocked her unconscious, gave her a black eye, choked her and accused her of improper relations with other men.

While she was away from home on a visit, she stated in the complaint, her husband went out with other women.

They were married in Texas in January, 1926, and separated May 29 of this year.

Mrs. Ruth is asking for custody of two minor children and for money for their care and expenses.

Former County Resident Passes
Word was received here this morning of the death of I. E. Stanley, of Pasadena, who passed away last night at his home in that city. Funeral services are to be held Tuesday at 2:30 p. m. at the Salisbury funeral chapel in Pasadena. Mr. Stanley lived in Villa Park for many years before moving to Pasadena. He leaves three daughters and 10 grandchildren.

Although traffic through Orange county yesterday and Saturday was as heavy as it has been this year, according to state traffic officers, automobile crashes were few with injuries unusually small in number.

The most spectacular crash occurred between Doheny Park and San Clemente, on the Coast highway, when a small coupe was struck by Santa Fe passenger train No. 74, in charge of Conductor C. W. Frazier, of Los Angeles.

The car was driven by H. F. Graham of 3212 South Main street, Los Angeles, and was owned by another occupant of the machine, E. N. Athons, of 719 East 87th street, Los Angeles. Others in the car were John Schroeder, of 2140 Cazador street, Los Angeles; Mrs. Ann Surbough and Miss Pearl Prescott, both of 719 East 87th street and Mrs. Graham.

C. F. Waldo, of 507 North Vine street, Anaheim, suffered an injured leg when the motorcycle he was riding collided with a car driven by Mrs. H. A. Saumann, of 1005 East Seventeenth street, at 6:15 p. m. Saturday at Fifteenth and North Main streets. He is not believed to have been seriously injured.

Mrs. Nora Lockin, 63, of 2820 Polk street, San Diego, was given first aid treatment at the Santa Ana Valley hospital yesterday for injuries received in an automobile accident at Tustin, which so far has not been reported to authorities. She later went to her home.

'Y' WILL GIVE FREE SWIMMING LESSONS
Free swimming lessons for boys will be offered at the Y. M. C. A. in response to numerous requests for instruction for beginners.

Physical Director R. R. Rusick announced today that he will take a class of beginners starting on Thursday morning at 11 o'clock, and teach them to swim. This class for boys is from 7 to 11 years of age who cannot swim at all. The lessons will be given on Thursday and Friday of this week, and on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday of next week. Enrollments should be made in advance, as only 30 boys can be enrolled in all of the five lessons.

UNION CHURCH SERVICE HELD LAST EVENING

ANAHEIM, June 27. — Before a capacity audience a union church service was held last evening at the White Temple Methodist church and Dr. Earle S. Taylor of Riverside discussed "The Coming Crisis," referring to the prohibition question and the problems facing the people.

Taking part in the temperance meeting were the Rev. Ralph W. Lee, who presided, and the Rev. H. L. Thatcher, pastor of the Wesley M. E. church, South; the Rev. S. E. Schraeder, Salem Evangelical church; the Rev. Virgil K. Ledbetter, Calvary Baptist church, and the Rev. B. C. Voll of the Broadway Methodist Episcopal church.

The special music was furnished by the White Temple Methodist church and Dr. Lyman Harpster was the soloist.

The Rev. S. F. Hilgenfeld, president of the Federated Brotherhood group in Anaheim, announced that a board of strategy will function during the coming campaign. They are John Neuschaefer of Nazareth church, president; John E. Coyner, of the Presbyterian church, vice president; Lloyd F. Nichols, of the Methodist church, secretary, and Mrs. J. H. Daugherty of the Church of Christ, treasurer.

ANAHEIM POST TO TAKE PART IN BROADCAST

ANAHEIM, June 27. — The Anaheim post of the American Legion will participate in the musical program, under the direction of Harold Roberts, that will be radio broadcast over the national hook-up on the evening of June 30. The crack uniform drum and bugle corps will go to the Olympic stadium to participate in this event.

The corps will assemble in the stadium at 6 p. m. All corps of Southern California have been invited to participate in the massed formation that will be heard over the air.

The program will be the announcement of the opening of the Tenth Olympic Games.

RESIDENT HERE 5 YEARS IS CALLED

ANAHEIM, June 27.—Mrs. Marie H. Schmidt, 48, a native of Germany, but a resident in Anaheim for five years, passed away at the Orange county hospital late Saturday afternoon after a brief illness. The deceased has lived in the United States for more than 23 years and in Southern California for 15 years.

She is survived by her husband, Carl Schmidt, one son, Albert of Anaheim and an aged mother, Mrs. Marie Seiserlein, in Germany, three sisters, Mrs. Bruno Rupert of Idaho, Mrs. Anna Hunter and Mrs. Katherine Billings, both in Germany and two brothers, Fred and George Seiserlein, also in Germany.

The remains are at Hilgenfelds funeral home and funeral arrangements will be announced later when word is received from relatives.

PROMINENT COUPLE MARRIED ON SUNDAY

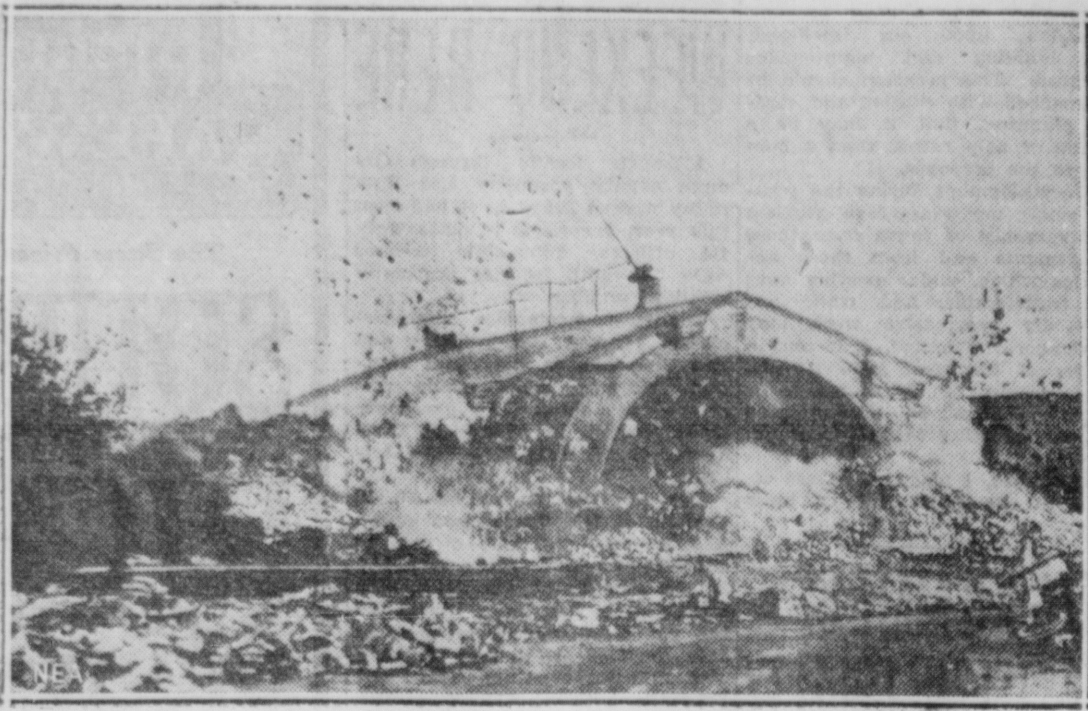

ANAHEIM, June 27.—Mrs. Emma Eberhard and William S. Price, father of John W. Price, city clerk, were married yesterday noon at the White Temple Methodist church by the Rev. Ralph W. Lee.

Taking their places before the pulpit, following the 11 o'clock worship hour, the couple were quietly married. The bride wore an orchid silk, crepe dress and with it tan accessories.

Following a week's trip to the mountain Mr. and Mrs. Price will return to Anaheim.

HERE'S PEACE TIME DESTRUCTION

Not enemy shells, but workmen's dynamite was destroying Fort St. Anne at Antwerp, Belgium, when this spectacular picture was snapped. It was part of the Belgian government's program of dismantling fortresses which were erected as defenses during the World War.

JOBLESS WILL HAVE QUARTERS OF THEIR OWN

ANAHEIM, June 27.—Through the generosity of Dr. W. M. Chambers of Pasadena and the cooperation of George Reid, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce and Mayor Fred Koese, suitable headquarters were today made available to the Anaheim Workers Legion for its commissary.

The building is located at 132 Chestnut street. It has a frontage of 50 feet and is 110 feet in depth and was formerly used as a garage.

Possession of the new headquarters was taken this morning when members of the organization began moving in 400 pounds of beans donated from Fullerton; 1000 pounds of rhubarb donated by the Nott Berry farm and other supplies which are being collected from donors. Sixteen acres of potatoes have also been donated to this organization of the unemployed for the digging and men are now at work on the harvest. Locations are also being made by chain stores of the city. The commissary will be in charge of a special committee composed of Ivan Smith and Jess Schroeder. Someone will be on duty at all times to accept donations of food supplies, arrange for their collection and distribution to needy families of the unemployed, it was announced.

Use of the new commissary headquarters has been donated to the legion by Dr. Chambers. A meeting of the legion will be held next Tuesday night. Members will assemble at the K. of P. hall and later retire to the new commissary headquarters. All unemployed of the city are urged by President Pemberton to attend.

An oil-engine locomotive, built by German engineers for the Russian government, can run 1000 miles without taking in fresh supplies of fuel. This is four times farther than a steam train can run without re-fueling.

ANAHEIM, June 27.—Miss Mabel White, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. N. White of Sycamore street, was the incentive for lovely breakfast, a personal show given her during the week end by Mrs. Ross Deaver of Los Angeles, a former roommate, when they attended Occidental college, from which the honoree is a graduate.

The breakfast was held at 10 o'clock and included former sorority sisters, relatives and close friends from here. The table was cleverly decorated with a small house and gardens while the name plate on the door said, "Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Walker."

Upon being told to "clean house" the honoree looked inside the house and found many attractive gifts for herself. Following the breakfast the guests enjoyed talking over school days and the many romances that have taken place since then.

From here those who attended were the honoree, Dr. Sarah Fay, Miss Mary Alice White, Mrs. H. N. White, Mrs. Thomas H. Walker and Mrs. Stewart White, sister-in-law at Orange.

POLLS CLOSE

ANAHEIM, June 27.—Polls will close on Wednesday afternoon at 5 o'clock for the six new directors of the Chamber of Commerce that are being voted upon in the chamber of commerce office. Members are urged to cast their ballots.

Police News

The green Chrysler roadster, belonging to A. Curtis of 542 South Citron street, that was stolen Saturday night was recovered yesterday by the police department.

On answering a call yesterday Officers Cheatum and Rude found a baby Austin on the sidewalk in front of the Fairland theater and helped the woman owner move it to the street.

ANAHEIM PERSONALS

Following a southern district conference of the Free Methodist church, from which the Rev. J. A. Watson just returned he announced, this morning, that he has been returned to the local church for another year.

The Eulogia class of the Calvary Baptist church will hold an all day meeting in the city park tomorrow. All members have been urged to attend and to bring sissors, thimbles and quilt patches. There will be a pot luck luncheon at the noon hour.

There's a lot to it!

THE ARTIST blends colors. The cigarette maker blends tobaccos. The artist must use just the right amount of each color to get a pleasing effect. And the cigarette blender must use just the right amount of the right kinds of tobacco to get a better and more pleasing taste. Both must know how!

The right BLEND...

the right BALANCE

A "balanced" blend... the right Domestic and Turkish tobaccos in the right amounts... blended in a different way... "welded" together.

That's the Chesterfield Cross-Blend... an important reason why Chesterfields are milder and taste better.

It isn't just taking the tobaccos and mixing them hit-or-miss.

The Chesterfield Cross-Blend makes one type or one variety of tobacco partake of the qualities of another. It "welds" together all that is best in each variety.

It's a balanced blend in the truest sense... giving you what really amounts to a new kind of tobacco... Chesterfield tobacco... milder, more fragrant, better-tasting.

that's why Chesterfields TASTE BETTER

SELECT JURY FOR MARTINEZ MURDER TRIAL

The trial of Juan Martinez, Mexican, charged with the murder of Hilario Siguanlo, a fellow laborer on the Cox ranch between San Juan Capistrano and Capistrano Hot Springs, on April 26, of this year, got under way in department one of the superior court this morning. The case is being tried before Superior Judge H. G. Ames.

The entire morning was spent in the selection and questioning of prospective jurors who will hear the evidence in the murder trial and decide the fate of Martinez. Late this morning the jury had not been completed. It was estimated by court officials that it would take two or three days for the trial.

The defendant was represented in court by Attorney W. Maxwell Burke and the people were represented by S. B. Kaufman, deputy district attorney.

Siguanlo, according to the prosecution, was shot to death by Martinez during a drunken brawl on the ranch, according to information. The gun belonged to the dead man. Martinez gave himself up to officers following the killing. A third Mexican fled from the scene after the fatal shooting.

Martinez was expected to enter a plea of self defense, having previously claimed he shot Siguanlo after he had attacked him.

ALLEGED HIT-RUN DRIVER IS JAILED

Lawrence A. Messenger, 23, a mechanic at March Field, near Riverside, was today in the county jail, charged with failure to stop and render aid after an automobile accident.

He was arrested by California Highway Patrol Officers Joe Clever and Ben Craig, following an accident near Anaheim a week ago, at which time a car plunged into a machine occupied by Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Davis of Huntington Beach.

No one was hurt in the accident, but when Messenger attempted to run away from the scene of the crash, his car caught fire and he was forced to abandon it. His arrest followed investigation by officers who found the registration slip did not burn with the car.

TWO MEXICANS TAKEN. STOLEN JEWELS FOUND

Two Mexicans, who acted in such a manner as to cause persons in Stanton to become suspicious, were arrested by sheriff's officers and taken to Los Angeles yesterday after a quantity of stolen jewelry had been found in their possession, according to a report at the sheriff's office.

Sheriff Logan Jackson and Deputy Sheriff L. H. Nicholson, investigated the men after a report had come to them from Stanton. At the approach of the officers the men, Alfred Lucero, 23, and Arnolfo Rojas, 27, were seen to throw several articles from their car which proved to be jewelry, worth approximately $500.

A diamond ring, worth $150, together with several rings, wrist watches and other jewelry was recovered by the officers. The Mexicans, under grilling admitted, the sheriff's office said, to committing a burglary of a Japanese residence near Wilmington.

TALK ON IDEALS OF DEMOCRATIC PARTY IS GIVEN

The principles of the Democratic party and their historical origin were the subject of the Forum discussion group led by Loyal K. King at the Methodist church Forum yesterday morning.

"To the people belongs the power; and the government of the people is the principle around which Jefferson built the party. Jefferson and his followers constantly adhered to the doctrine that the federal government was a government created through the action of states delegating part of their power to a central authority; that the powers not expressly given to federal government resided in the several states."

"Out of this doctrine grew the issue of state rights. Jefferson wanted every man to take part in the government and to secure that end he would have as the township trustees and town councils assume as much responsibility in the administration of law as possible. This doctrine of course is directly opposed by those who believe in centralized government by the best minds of the country."

"While it is true that the nation cannot rise above the average intelligence and experience of its people it is probably also true that the most able can probably govern best at any time. Fundamentally every man either adheres to the 'doctrine of democracy' or chooses some other social philosophy. If the questions of today were simple questions of democracy, if the Democratic party had exclusive claim to those doctrines the choice of party would be very easy."

"Modern business and social conditions are vastly different from those that existed when this nation was founded. The Democratic party came into power under the name of the Republican party. It was known during Jefferson's administration as the Republican party. The Federalist party whom it succeeded in power had limited the right of free speech, and Jefferson and his followers constantly stressed the cause of democracy, 'free speech, free assembly, and to the people belongs the power.' Gradually the party became known as the Democratic-Republican party, and finally Republican was dropped from the party name."

"As a result of changing conditions the Democratic party has been forced to take a position on many questions that did not exist during its early years. Its tariff position, however, has always been that a tariff should be used for purposes of raising revenue and not for exclusion of foreign goods for the protection of home manufacture."

"Its position on the liquor question as outlined in the tentative plank, refers this question back to the states. It is in line with the philosophy that people everywhere should govern their own conduct, and that only such things as are national or foreign by their nature should be handled by the federal government."

McFADDEN NOT IN SUPERVISOR RACE

Final official checkup of candidates in the race for supervisor from the First district reveals that there are but eight Santa Anas seeking this office instead of nine as previously stated.

Saturday with the final filing of candidates for the various county, state and national offices the name of E. T. McFadden was included in the list of supervisory candidates who had filed their nomination papers. Papers had been taken out for McFadden by his friends but were not filed.

The list of candidates who are actively in the campaign are: W. C. Jerome, former county auditor; John Knox, former mayor of Santa Ana; W. B. Martin, president of the Santa Ana Realty Board; Stanley Goode, one time member of the Santa Ana city council; J. C. Metzgar, former secretary of the Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce; Wilbur K. Getty, past commander of the Santa Ana Post American Legion; Charles Van Wyk, walnut grower and member of the Santa Ana post of the Legion, and B. T. Bowden.

AMPUTATE LEG OF PIONEER RANCHER

J. E. Parker, a resident of Orange county since 1875, is resting easily following an operation Friday, at the St. Joseph's hospital. It was learned this morning. Mr. Parker underwent an operation for leg amputation after gangrene had set in. Mr. Parker is a rancher and lives on North Batavia street, Orange. He is 80 years of age and is a brother of the late C. E. Parker, president of the Orange County Title company.

BAD GEOGRAPHY
HOUSTON, Tex.—Federal Judge Randolph Bryant was questioning W. O. Bell, charged with transportation and possession of liquor. "Have you a job?" "Yes, sir," Bell answered. "I work in my father-in-law's store in Van Alstyne." "Where is it located?" shot back the judge. "Right across the square from the courthouse," averred Bell. "Ninety days and $300!" pronounced Judge Bryant. "There isn't any courthouse in Van Alstyne." The judge, it seems, lives in Van Alstyne.

CHANGE TEACHER FOR ART COURSE

A change has been necessary in the teacher of the art course to be given at summer sessions at the Santa Ana high school. It was announced this morning and Miss Mildred Tummond, teacher at the Judia Lathrop junior high school will be the instructor, according to Dean McKee Flisk.

Miss Tummond will teach, painting, drawing, designing and leather craft. In the latter art Miss Tummond is said to be especially talented and her instruction will include the making of bill folds, book covers, desk sets and portfolios. High school or college credits may be made by taking the course.

DR. JOHNSTON IS APPOINTED TO NEW OFFICE

ANAHEIM, June 27.—Dr. Herbert A. Johnston, prominent Anaheim civic worker and surgeon, has just been appointed Anaheim community chairman of the United States society, a nationwide, non-partisan organization that is being organized in thirty states for the purpose of spreading knowledge of the American government.

This honor was given Dr. Johnston by Dr. Robert Andrews Millikan, state chairman for Southern California, and Mrs. Hancock Banning, co-chairman. Dr. Johnston will first form a local executive committee for the society.

Most of the work will be done through the schools and abundant material will be provided for the study of the school children while adult classes will be formed in the city and events dealing with government will be discussed and explained.

According to a statement made by the society, "The more our people know about government the keener their interest will be in public affairs and naturally, when they cast their ballots they will do so with a broader grasp of the issues."

The members of the committee to be formed here will associate themselves as representatives with men and women such as Calvin Coolidge, Owen D. Young, Elihu Root, Newton D. Baker, John Grier Hibben, Mary Roberts Rinehart and others who are connected with the national organization.

Boy Injured In Fall From Wheel

Reggie Tyden, 12 years old, was seriously injured early today when he was knocked from a bicycle he was riding on his way to school, near his home on Santa Ana, route No. 3. It was reported by the St. Joseph's hospital, where he was taken.

No report of the accident has been made to sheriff's officers here, and the driver of the car which struck the boy is not known.

Young Tyden suffered a fracture of the skull and an operation was performed to relieve the pressure on his brain. His condition is serious.

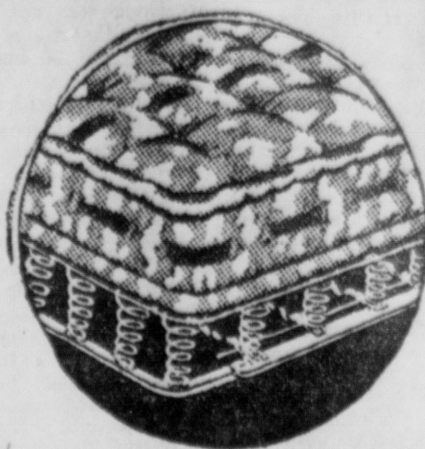

Hay Thieves Get Jail Sentences

Concepcion Vlayra, 36, and Jesus Razo, who were arrested Saturday by Officers Swayze and Dungan of the fruit patrol, were sentenced to serve 30 days in the county jail when they appeared before Judge Smith in Seal Beach this morning. They were lodged in the county jail to begin serving the sentences.

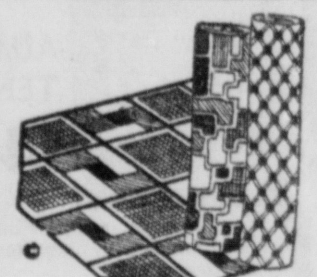

The pair were caught stealing three bales of alfalfa hay from the Bryant ranch, according to the arresting officers.

EARLENE DAVIS BECOMES BRIDE J. E. HARMON JR.

ORANGE, June 27.—The Trinity Episcopal church was the setting Saturday afternoon for the wedding of Miss Earlene Harriet Davis, of this city, and John Elwood Harmon Jr., of Los Angeles. The bride is the granddaughter of Mrs. Harriet Davis, of South Grand street, and Mr. Harmon is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Elwood Harmon, of Anaheim.

The service was read by the rector of the church, the Rev. J. Alvin Shirley, only the immediate members of the family being present. The beauty of the church was enhanced by the use of various colored gladioluses about the altar where the young people plighted their troth.

The bride was very charming in a crepe ensemble in Olympic blue and she wore accessories in beige. After the ceremony a reception was held at the Davis home and an elaborately decorated bride's cake was served with ices.

The young people left directly after the ceremony for their home in Los Angeles, which they have established at 821 1-4 Santa Barbara boulevard. The bridegroom is employed in the Shell Oil company offices and he is a graduate of the University of California at Los Angeles. The bride, also a graduate of the same university, was a member of the class of 1932.

Social Held By Class At Church

ORANGE, June 27.—Home Builders of the First Christian church spent an enjoyable evening Friday in the church basement, where they held a covered dish dinner. Mr. and Mrs. Robert Robinson, Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Gray and Mr. and Mrs. Winbier were hosts for the evening.

As the occasion marked J. E. Bingham's birthday anniversary, he was presented with a handsome cake on behalf of the assembled group. He is president of the Loyal Builders, many of whose members are also members of the Home Builders' group.

Following the dinner, games and contests were enjoyed.

Mrs. A. R. Fernald and daughter, Miss Leah Fernald, West Palmyra avenue, had as guests the past week, Mrs. Belle Collins and daughter, Marion; Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Fry and Jesse D. Fry, of Los Angeles.

Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Lindencrantz, Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Rains and Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Kern, of this city, spent the week end in Laguna Beach.

"The Joyful Church" will be the prayer meeting topic Wednesday evening at the Christian church.

Samuel Hart, of 515 South Grand street, accompanied by his daughter and grandsons, Mrs. H. P. Giberson and San and John, of Denver, motored to Santa Mateo to visit his son, Gene Hart and family. They will return Wednesday. Mrs. Giberson and sons are spending the month of June with her parents.

Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Jensen, of San Diego, spent the week end with Mrs. Jensen's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Neville, of 262 North Pine street.

Mr. and Mrs. Guy Jones and Mrs. M. E. Bell, of Anaheim, were in Orange Sunday. Friends will know Mrs. Jones as Mrs. Minnie Grab, who lived a number of years on North Citrus street.

The annual picnic of the members of the Masonic order and the Eastern Star will be held Tuesday evening at Irvine park at 6:30 o'clock. Members of Scepter Circle will meet in the afternoon at 2:30 o'clock for a business session before the picnic dinner.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bunch entertained over the week end their cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Eli Farney and children and Mrs. Farney's mother, Mrs. Anna Riley, all of Hollywood.

Old Timers of Orange County from Orange who attended the eighth annual picnic at Irvine park yesterday were J. P. Boring, David Wetlin, Mrs. Emma Wells, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Hughes, Logan Jackson, Mrs. Ina Cope, Mrs. Laura Bowen, Mr. and Mrs. D. Pickley, N. T. Edwards, Mrs. Emma Houdel, Mrs. Ida Wolfe, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Farwell, E. A. Honey, Mrs. G. W. Riggle and Mrs. Angelina Courtney.

Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Ingle and Miss Helene Courtney were Sunday dinner guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Morgan, 229 North Pine street.

Harold Richardson, of North Waverly street, has been confined to his home for several days with a severe attack of ptomaine poisoning.

Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Moody and daughter, Delores, of Buena Park, were week end guests in the home of Mr. Moody's parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Moody, of South Shaffer street.

Mr. and Mrs. George Burns, of Santa Ana, were recent guests in the home of Mrs. Burns' parents, Mr. and Mrs. B. B. Masters, of South Center street.

Mrs. Hart, Mrs. Gladys McDonald, Mrs. Becca Baker, Mrs. Pennington, Mrs. Rebecca Baker, Mrs. Gladys McDonald and Mrs. Katie Thursday afternoon on Royal Neighbors' business.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred E. Zapf, West Walnut avenue, were hosts at luncheon Friday. Their guests included Frank Brackett, head of the astronomy department at Pomona college, and Mrs. Brackett and Dr. and Mrs. Gilbert Brink.

Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Wright and Mr. and Mrs. Bert Beckman, of Long Beach, and Miss Ada Wright, of Monroe, La., were recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Talmade, North Glassell street.

W. W. Perry, Collins avenue, has returned from Hemet, where he had been to see his son, Morris Perry. The latter had the misfortune the past week to lose his hay barn in a fire, the origin of which was not determined. In the fire, 37 tons of hay, tools and several sets of harness were destroyed.

Dr. Julia Hinrichs is expected to return Monday from the San Bernardino mountains, where she has spent several days at Camp Radford, the 4-H club camp.

Mrs. Julia Warner, of Tustin, is a guest in the home of her niece, Mrs. Grace Cleveland, 445 North Tustin avenue this week.

Miss Marie Bivens, North Pine street, celebrated her 15th birthday today with a party at Newport Beach. A picnic dinner was served and swimming and beach sports enjoyed. Those bidden to share the day with Miss Bivens were Miss Barbara Hallman, Miss Pauline Raley, Miss Betty Ross and Miss Gladys Wagers.

Mrs. Harry Nuffer has spent the past week at Lake Elsinore. Mr. Nuffer accompanied her to the resort and remained for a few days.

UNION CHURCH SERVICE OPENS NEXT SUNDAY

ORANGE, June 27.—The Rev. Franklin H. Minck, pastor of the Orange Christian church, announced yesterday that it was the last Sunday before the opening of the union meetings for the summer season. The morning solo was rendered by Ben Hager, who sang "The Shepherd of the Fold," Barnard. The anthem was by the full choir, "It Is Good to Sing Praises," Lorenz.

The Scripture readings were from the 14th chapter of Mark from which the sermon subject, "A Mis-carriage of Justice," was presented. The pastor said in part: "On down through Biblical lives recorded, we find the false testimony that brings havoc with it and the miscarriage of judgment. In social, political and business phases of life today we contend with character and reputation as a natural tendency in times to rate ourselves by the reputation that the world gives us. But we are judged most of all by the testimony we contribute to the world of others."

"Wanting What You Get" was the subject of the Sunday evening sermon with the music furnished by the mixed quartet made up of J. D. Rossier, Mrs. Walter Koller, Mrs. A. D. Burkett and C. Beriman with Mrs. Leon Des Larzes leading the congregational singing. The quartet sang "Crossing the Bar," by Barry; "Nearer My God to Thee" by McPhail.

The Rev. Mr. Minck said in part: "Rejoice and be exceedingly glad. Was Jesus a happy man? The Bible speaks of His weeping with no special mention of His happiness because happiness was His usual attitude. 'Rejoice and leap with joy' is a version nearer the Greek yet there will be persecutions and trials but they will bring no need of unhappiness to those who live a worth while life in the security of God."

The service next Sunday evening will be held at the Presbyterian church, with the sermon by the Rev. Franklin H. Minck and the choir of the Christian church furnishing the music.

YOUNG PEOPLE HOLD TRABUCO CANYON OUTING

ORANGE, June 27.—Members of the Immanuel Lutheran league shared the first summer outing of the year when they motored to Trabuco canyon for a picnic supper yesterday. The group of young people was accompanied by the pastor of the church, the Rev. A. G. Webbeking.

Hikes up the hills and informal games were enjoyed before the supper was served.

Those present were Arthur Danner, Arnold Maas, Arnold and Harold Eldo, Clarence Sprecher, Harold Dittmer, Harold Kroener, Wilbert Buecher, Arnold Frevert, Paul Giesler, William Mack, Martha Lorenzen, Anna Tiemann, Anna, Cora, Ellen and Alma Mack, Margaret Haebener, Christina and Leonard Danner, Anna Sprecher, Mary Louise John, Anita Ehrenport and Elva and Dorothea Koenig.

Refreshments were served to Mesdames E. E. Campbell, Alvin Clifford, Henry Campbell, Marion Flippin, Cal Lester, Walter Lovell, Paul Ristow, B. D. Stanley, W. J. Sutherland, Lee Ward, George Welch, Earl Wood, all club members, and Mrs. Ethel Nette, a special guest.

PICNIC ARRANGED BY U. S. A. MEMBERS

ORANGE, June 27.—U. S. A. club members were pleasantly entertained the past week in the home of Mrs. Lotta Brandon, East Palm avenue. During the afternoon Mrs. H. A. Brown, who returned recently from a trip to New York and other points east, gave an interesting account of her travels.

Members made plans for a picnic to be held July 8 at Irvine park. During the latter part of July, the group is to meet with Mrs. Marion Flippin.

At the close of the afternoon

NEW COUNTRY CLUB TO OPEN JULY FOURTH

The Vagabond Country club will stage a gala opening on July 1 in the clubhouse formerly occupied by the Orange County Golf course on Newport bay in Costa Mesa. It was announced today by Sally Brotherton, who will act as hostess at the new establishment.

Dining, dancing and entertainment will be featured at the new establishment daily. It was announced. Dance music will be furnished by the Vagabond Sereaders, a seven-piece orchestra. Special features in the way of entertainment will be presented on July 1, 3 and 4, the days set aside for the opening celebration.

Sally Brotherton was formerly hostess at the Arch Beach Tavern in Laguna Beach. Mack Thompson, well known chef who was formerly connected with the same tavern, will be the chef at the new club.

S. A. COLLEGE YOUTH STARTS ART STUDIES

One of three winners in a scholarship contest entered by outstanding young artists on the Pacific Coast, Harley Melzian, 1932 graduate of Santa Ana junior college, today began study at the Los Angeles Art Center school, where he has been awarded a year's free tuition.

With an approximate enrollment of 200, the Art Center conducts an annual scholarship contest in which candidates are judged solely on the merits of their submitted work.

Melzian was awarded on five pieces—a magazine advertisement, Mexican head and design, bill board advertisement, still life and oil, and a poster for the Santa Fe railroad.

Although seeking experience in all branches of art, the Santa Ana graduate will specialize in advertising and commercial work at the Los Angeles school.

While attending junior college Melzian designed numerous posters for the executive board and campus organizations, and served as art editor of the 1932 Del Amo, considered one of the college's best yearbooks. He has been on the art staff of five different annuals, three of which were published by the Orange high school, where he was graduated in 1930.

Police News

Two junior high school boys were arrested Saturday night by Santa Ana police officers on charges that they stole groceries from the Continental Store at Seventeenth and North Main streets and exchanged them for food at a local restaurant. They were turned over to juvenile officers.

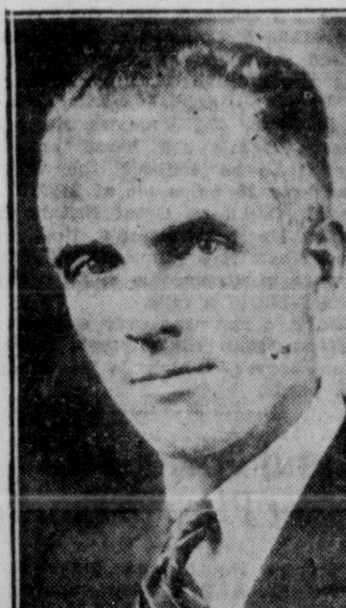

Dallas E. Preble, 27, of 1707 North Main street, was arrested last night by Santa Ana police and lodged in the county jail on a drunk charge.

Mrs. Ruth Hester of 2005 South Main street, was robbed of $150 in cash, which she was carrying in a purse while shopping downtown Saturday afternoon, a police report states. She left her purse in a local store while she shopped nearby and when she returned the pocketbook inside the purse had been taken, she reported.

SCOUTS RETURN

WESTMINSTER, June 25.—Nine local Scouts and their Scoutmasters have arrived home from the county scout camp in the mountains. In the party were Scoutmaster Ned Clinton and Hollis Fitz, and Donald Melvin, Earl VanUden, Johnnie Montgomery, Richard Ferguson, Ray This, Norman Tossaint, Bill Clinton and Alvin Smith.

Liquor, Gambling Equipment Taken In Police Raid

Poker chips, dice, whiskey and knives found on a table around which were several Mexicans, at 1889 West Third street last night, caused the arrest of the men who were held for questioning, then released. Santa Ana police raided the place.

No money was in evidence and although a poker game was in progress at the time, the men were not held.

The knives measured about four inches in length, police said. All were confiscated.

BARR IS NAMED TO REPRESENT U. S. SOCIETY

O. H. Barr, president and director of The Barr Lumber Company, member of Community Chest Board, member of Kiwanis, has been appointed Santa Ana Community Chairman of The United States Society, a nation-wide, non-partisan organization. The purpose of the Society is to spread knowledge of government, and it is now being organized in 30 states. Dr. Robert Andrews Millikan, State Chairman for Southern California, and Mrs. Hancock Banning, Co-Chairman, have requested Mr. Barr to form a local Executive Committee of the Society.

"The members of this committee," says a statement issued by the So-an representatives in the community, "will associate themselves with other well known men and women including Calvin Coolidge, Owen D. Young, Ellhu Root, Newton D. Baker, John Grier Hibben, Mary Roberts Rinehart and others who are connected with the national organization."

"The work will center around the schools," says the Society's statement. "It is planned to supply the schools with abundant material for the study of current government activities and problem without charge. Adult study groups also will be organized and at their meetings current events dealing with government will be discussed and explained. Through this systematic study of current government affairs we hope to have a better informed citizenry. The more our people know about government the keener their interest in public affairs will be, and, naturally, when they cast their ballots they will do so with a broader grasp of the issues."

"The United States Society, through careful organization in each state and community," said the Society's statement, "seeks to meet this need. The Society will furnish without charge to students in our schools study material dealing factually and interestingly with current events in government. The teachers will be furnished with a special service and bibliography which will be helpful in conducting classroom work in civics and government."

"Debate material for both affirmative and negative sides of public questions also will be supplied by the Society. Model congresses are to be organized in the schools, full directions for such organizations being supplied. It is hoped that these debates and model congresses will dramatize government for the student and result in greatly increased interest."

Report Theft Of Two Automobiles

Two automobiles were reported stolen over the week end, neither of which had been recovered late today.

M. Schaffert, of 553 South Grand avenue, Orange, reported the theft of his car from a place on North Broadway Saturday night, and a car owned by Glenn Jesse, of Santa Ana Route No. 4, was stolen from Ocean avenue, Huntington Beach, late last night, police were told.

Now!—the New "FLYING A" ASSOCIATED GASOLINE

"PUTS WINGS ON YOUR CAR!"

"AERO-TYPE"—with road-proven octane stability—for Aeroplane performance in your car!

A NEW GASOLINE! Buoyant; swift; alert. Proved on the road in cars like yours. Aero-type—with the same octane stability required in aviation gasoline. Yet at no increase in price.

Back to fundamentals. Away with meaningless claims. Here are the facts about octane—facts proved on the road and not alone in laboratories. These are basic truths about a new, pure, crystal-clear gasoline made expressly to meet present day requirements. We told our engineers:

"Make a new gasoline that will give the motorist the finest results and the most for his money. See that it meets the toughest tests of today's driving."

The result—this new, aero-type gasoline, with

4 Exclusive Developments

1. OCTANE STABILITY. Gasolines with so-called "high octane" numbers but without octane stability are rejected for aviation service because they knock under severe operating conditions. Associated "FLYING A" for your car has identically the same octane stability required in aviation gasolines. You get sustained anti-knock performance no matter how fast or hard you drive.

2. HEART-CUT OF THE CRUDE. Associated "FLYING A" is refined from the heart-cut only of selected gasoline crudes. Heavy fractions and too-volatile fractions are rejected. That's how you get aero-type quality, for aeroplane performance in your car. You need not fear dreaded vapor-lock—those "popping," gassy fractions are gone.

3. EQUI-FRACTIONATING PROCESS. This "cream of the crude" then goes through our exclusive equi-fractionating process to assure all 5 vital performance qualities—Starting, Pick-up, Power, Speed and Mileage—not just one alone. A truly balanced motor fuel is the result.

4. CLIMATICALLY CORRECT. Wherever you drive you'll find Associated "FLYING A" specifically refined for climatic conditions there and then. We studied 10-year temperature records for districts and seasons. Now, 4 times a year we adjust your Associated "FLYING A" in accord with the weather in each of the 4 coast sections. This seasonal adjustment assures 5-quality performance at all times.

Today you can prove these exclusive developments for yourself, with a tank-full of Associated "FLYING A" Aero-type Gasoline from the red, green and cream pump. Its smooth, dynamic, quiet performance is the result you've been looking for in gasoline.

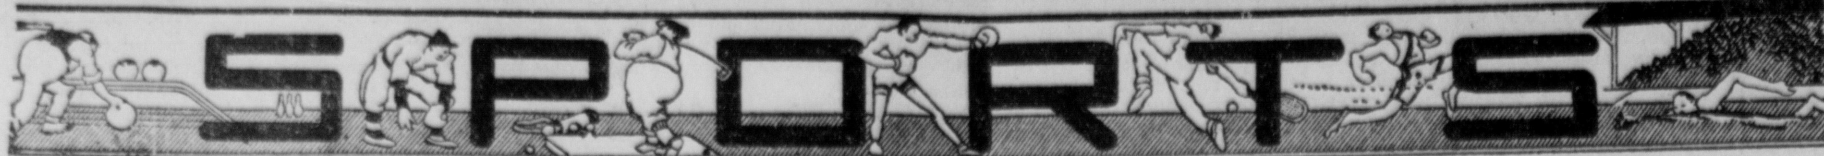

*"Octane numbers" are based on laboratory ratings. In actual road performance they fail to indicate anti-knock efficiency. Their value breaks down under road operating conditions. Hours of driving in cars like yours proved the unexcelled octane stability of Associated "FLYING A" Gasoline at all speeds and under every driving condition. "Octane numbers" mean nothing; it's road-proven octane stability that counts.

Try a tank-full Today!

The Reds gave Harry Hellmann a League. On the same team were his unconditional release the other day, and there passed from the majors a man who was more than a good ball player, more than a great hitter. For Hellmann always has been a real sportsman, with a fine spirit for fair play and a fighting heart.

NEEDED TWO POINTS
Before the double-header that ended Cleveland and Detroit, that ended the season, Hellmann's batting average was .391. The Athletics had ended their season, and Al Simmons closed out with a batting average of .292. By batting .400 in the first game of the double-header Hellmann could pass Simmons by a point and equal Lajoie's record for right-handed batters—leading the league four times.

TRIBUTE TO GAME GUY
But not Harry. He kept playing. He got another hit in that first game, winding up with three out of four. The prize was his. It was not expected that he would play the second game, and jeopardize his leadership.

Yet when the second game was called Hellmann trotted out to right field. The fans recognized his sportsmanship then in a thundering storm of cheers. He was going to play out his string, title or no. He wanted that record dearly, but he did not want it qualified by the fact that he quit without giving Simmons every chance.

And in that second game he got four hits out of five off big Bob Buckeye, the Cleveland southpaw, including a home run. That made seven hits out of nine times at bat in the two games, and gave Hellmann a final season's batting average of .398 against Simmons' .322.

UPS AND DOWNS
Hellmann went into baseball from St. Mary's college on the coast. In 1913 he was playing for Portland in the Northwestern

HANCOCK OIL RICHFIELD WIN COUNTY GAMES

ORANGE CO. SUMMER LEAGUE

	W.	L.	Pct.
Hancock Oil	4	0	1.000
Richfield	1	0	.000
Mawson-Salas	0	1	.000
Fullerton	0	1	.000

The two old standbys—Hancock Oil and Richfield—were out in front again today after one day's work in the second half of the split Orange County Summer League baseball season.

Hancock Oil shutout Mawson-Salas, 7-0, at Eddie Martin's airport yesterday, while Richfield, undefeated first half champion, nosed out Fullerton, 7-5.

Roland Shepherd's pitching stood out in the Hancock Oil triumph, the Santa Ana moundman limiting his opposition to two singles, both of which came in the third inning. Nobody got as far as first base on Shepherd's after that.

A home run by "Bomo" Koral in the first inning with Prather on scored two Hancock Oil runs. Two single and two errors and a hit batter added one in the third. A hit batter, a walk and two errors scored another fourth. A triple by E. Beatty, a double by B. Koral and a single by Lindsay scored two in the seventh. A single and stolen base by Shepherd and a single by J. Koral tallied a last run in the eighth.

HIGH SCHOOL PLUNGE IS OPEN TO PUBLIC
Santa Ana's school plunge, located in the southeast section of Andrews gymnasium on the high school and junior college campus, was opened to the public today, with nominal rates existing.

Dr. Robert J. Parker, swimming coach, announced that the following hours and admission prices would prevail throughout the summer months: Period I—9 to 11:30 a. m.; Period II—12 to 2:30 p. m.; and Period III—5 to 6:30 p. m.; admission—under 14 years of age—10 cents; 14 to 18—15 cents; and adults—20 cents. Prices are for one period only. Life guards will be on duty at the pool throughout the day.

GOLF WIDOW LOSES DECREE
LOS ANGELES, June 27.—(INS)—Here's one golf widow who tried, anyway, to solve her problem. She hid her husband's golf nickers, according to testimony of Israel Bell, retired, who won a divorce decree today from Sophie Bell.

SANTA ANA NET QUEEN BEGINS TOUR TONIGHT

Entered in seven major tournaments, including the National championships at Forest Hills, N. Y., Josephine Cruickshank leaves Santa Ana tonight for one of her most intensive Eastern tennis campaigns. She will be accompanied by Carolin Babcock of Los Angeles, one of the best Southern California players.

Miss Cruickshank's first competition will come at Providence, R. I., July 5, and thereafter she will be actively engaged in singles, doubles and mixed doubles in all the big tournaments of the summer, returning to Santa Ana about September 1 in time for the Pacific Southwest in Los Angeles.

Her itinerary follows:
July 5—Rhode Island state championships at Agawam Hunt, Providence, R. I.
July 11—Longwood invitational at Longwood Cricket club, Chestnut Hill, Mass.
July 16—Essex Country Club, Manchester, Mass.
July 25—Seabright Lawn Tennis and Cricket club, Seabright, N. J.
August 1—Malden club, East Hampton, N. Y.
August 8—Westchester Country club, Rye, N. Y.
August 15—National Women's championships at West Side Tennis club, Forest Hills, N. Y.

The Santa Ana, easily the finest player developed in Orange county, is ranked No. 12 nationally, No. 5 in California and No. 1 in Southern California.

For her doubles partner, Miss Cruickshank will have Mrs. John Van Ryn (Marjorie Gladman), wife of the American Davis Cup player.

Last year, Miss Cruickshank and Mrs. Van Ryn won among other honors the doubles title at Seabright, and were ranked first among American women's doubles teams in the National tournament.

Miss Babcock, accompanying the Santa Ana east, has played in the major tournaments two years as a junior. This will be her first season in the women's division.

Stars Swamp Inglewood's Outfit, 18-3

Inglewood today had probably reconsidered its decision to apply for a National Night league baseball franchise after what Santa Ana did to it here Saturday night in an exhibition game.

Scoring 17 runs in the first four innings, the Stars drowned their way through the rest of an 18-3 "game" to the delight of a small but enthusiastic crowd.

George Preble, "Easy" Wilcox and Clarence Hapes tried their pitching abilities after Joe Cornellius had held the visitors helpless for six innings. The Stars ran the bases wildly, had the hapless Inglewood players frantic. It wasn't the best game of the season but it was the funniest.

COLTON OUTS INLAND NIGHT BASEBALL LOOP

Colton's mighty Reds, Southern California night baseball champions, sing their swansong tonight in a game with Rialto that settles the first half championship of the 1932 American Night League.

Colton will disband after the Rialto contest and abandon its franchise. Tomorrow will start the second half in Colton's place Friday night, it is understood.

A general reorganization of the Pacific Fruit Express company's plant, which employs many members of the Colton team, was responsible for the retirement of the colorful Reds who forced Santa Ana to seven games for the Southern Cal. title in 1930 and beat the Stars for the same honor in another seven-game struggle in '31.

Manager Hubert Finlay, an official of the company, as well as many of his best players, were affected by the reorganization of the packing concern. In this group were Paul Watson and Rudy Montgomery, pitchers; Ray Shaddux, infielder; Billy Gilbert and Horace Bowers, outfielders.

Colton did not fare as well as usual in the first half of this year's pennant race, critics attributing this to the loss of Venn Batts, star pitcher, who "jumped" the Reds during the off-season to play with the Rialto Millionaires who are tied with Riverside for first place, with only tonight's games remaining to be run off.

BARTHOLMAE'S CRAFT FIRST IN HARBOR OLYMPIC TRIALS

NEWPORT BEACH, June 27.—(UP)—In Saturday and Sunday tryouts to determine the two boats to represent Newport harbor in Pacific Coast eliminations for the Olympic Games, Willard A. Bartholmae Jr., of Hollywood, won the first of the required five races with his Turtle Star, plying up a total of 10 points, giving him a good lead for the series.

Bartholmae, along with four other entries, called his Douglas triangular course Saturday in a spotty four-mile breeze which died down to almost nothing before the race was over. Lyons maneuvered his Vega II across the line first, followed by Turtle Star, Moira and West Wind.

On the windward leg to a mark off the Newport pier, Turtle Star of the race, with Turtle Star and West Wind slid by Lyons who failed to get his boat going. On the reach to the seaward

OLYMPIC HOPES

by CLAIRE BURCKY

When blond Otto Rosner swept over the Olympic horizon last month with his astonishing victory over Gene Venzke in a 1000-yard race, many a track fan searched his memory vainly for a clew to Rosner's athletic identity.

Some may have remembered that Rosner ran second in the half mile at the national championships at Lincoln, Neb., last year. His time was 1:53.

Five years ago, however, Otto was better known. In his high school days in New York City, he was the greatest half miler in the history of the public school athletic league. The indoor and outdoor records he established then still stand.

A sensational career was predicted for the youngster when he went to Princeton university. But a broken ankle kept him out of effective competition right up to graduation time, just a year ago. He at once began training for the national championships and made such a fine showing that he determined to try for the Olympic team.

First, however, he had to get a job. He finally landed one as chemistry instructor at Lawrenceville (N. J.) School, and it was not until last November that he was able to resume his training. He took part in only four races during the winter.

When Rosner heard that Venzke, the 4:10 miler, wanted to run the 1000-yard event at the New York Curb Exchange A. A. games in May, he sent in a request for an entry.

"I knew," he said, "that Venzke can't sprint. I thought maybe I could beat him at that distance."

For Rosner, it seems, can sprint. He has changed his style of running and now, instead of taking the lead and trying to keep it, he takes the first part of a race rather leisurely and starts sprinting several seconds before his opponents put on their final burst of speed. He plans to follow this style in winning a place on the U. S. Olympic team in the 800 meter event.

Otto is 24 and weighs 135 pounds. Besides teaching school and running for the New York A. C., he coaches two other running Rosners—his kid brothers in high school. One of them, Oscar, already has a one-mile championship.

Pirates Nab League Lead In National

NEW YORK, June 27.—(UP)—A six-game winning streak has swept the Pittsburgh Pirates to the top of the National League, for the first time this season.

Their double victory over the Reds yesterday gave George Gibson's Buchaners the lead after it had been shuttling back and forth between the Cubs and the Braves for most of the season.

Thus, the club which has the league's leading batter, Paul Waner, and the leading pitcher, Steve Swetonic, finally has garnered the league's leading percentage.

For 20 long days in May the Pirates were becalmed at the bottom of the league. But the Corsairs fought their way up to third position and hung on there until their recent string of victories.

Improved hitting is largely responsible for the Pirates' rise. Paul Waner and his brother, Lloyd, are doing well at bat. Outside of Swetonic's sensational hurling, Pittsburgh's pitching has not been exceptionally strong.

WRITERS PICK BEST PLAYERS IN 'BIG SHOW'

BY HENRY M'LEMORE
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
CHICAGO, June 27.—(UP)—With it uncomfortable, not to mention unsafe, to venture outside because of the Democrats, I am sitting in my room sipping rootbeer and talking baseball with George Kirksey, when he up and suggests we choose up sides.

"And play what?" I counter. "Tag?"

"No," says he, "choose up and see who can get the best team out of the National League. I will pick first."

"No," says I, thinking about "Chuck" Klein, "I will pick first." So we match and I call it heads. Heads it is.

"Klein," says I, "let's try the American."

"No," says I, "let's finish the National and then we'll do the American and you may have your first choice. So we start picking one player at a time, and this is what we get:

SARAZEN FIRST PRO TO BAG TWO TITLES

NEW YORK, June 27.—(UP)—Gene Sarazen, after nine long years of indifferent success along the world's golfing trails, has accomplished a feat unique in the history of golf.

When Sarazen came out ahead of the field in the U. S. Open Saturday it gave him his second major title of the season and marked the first time that a professional ever has won the British and U. S. Open championships in the same year. Only one amateur ever has turned the trick—Bobby Jones, who back in 1930 not only won the two Open titles but the British and American amateur championship as well.

Sarazen shot a par-shattering round Saturday to come from behind and overhaul Phil Perkins and Bobby Cruikshank, who tied for second at 289 each.

Sarazen paired with Billy Burke yesterday in an exhibition charity match at Fresh Meadow against Jones and Tommy Armour. Jones and Armour won 3 and 2.

CHANDLER NET CHAMP

BERKELEY, June 27.—(UP)—"Bud" Chandler, Berkeley, was again men's singles champion of California today after a one year lapse during which time the title was held by Ellsworth Vines. Chandler defeated Gerald Stratford, San Francisco, in the finals of the state tennis tourney here yesterday, 8-6, 6-1, 6-4.

HELEN JACOBS, MRS. MOODY IN EASY VICTORIES

WIMBLEDON, Eng., June 27.—(UP)—Mrs. Helen Wills Moody and Miss Helen Jacobs smashed their way into the semi-final round of the English tennis championships today.

Mrs. Moody defeated Dorothy Round of Great Britain, 6-0, 6-1, while Miss Jacobs defeated Fraulein Hilda Krahwinkel, 6-2, 6-4.

In the semi-finals Mrs. Moody will play Miss. Rene Mathieu of France while Miss Jacobs will play Miss Mary Heeley.

Miss Mary Heeley, young British player, eliminated Mrs. Eileen Bennett Whittingstall, one of the better English players, in the quarter-finals 6-6, 6-4, 6-0.

Miss Jacobs in her match with Fraulein Krahwinkel played with her right arm taped, due to sore muscles. The match was extended, including many baseline rallies. The American girl played a deep game waiting for the German player to err.

It was a reversal of the scene in 1931 when the two met in the semi-finals and the German girl won, 10-8, 0-6, 6-4.

Ellsworth Vines, Sidney B. Wood and Frank Shields, American stars, did not play in the men's singles today.

Vines' next foe will be Ernest Maier, Spanish star who sensationally eliminated Jean Borotra of France. Fred Perry of England and Jack Crawford of Australia will clash in the other upper bracket quarter-final.

Shields tackles Henry (Bunny) Austin, British star, and Wood meets Jiroh Satoh, of Japan, in the two lower bracket matches.

SCHEDULE FOR CITY NET MEET REVISED

Changes in pairings for the first week of the Santa Ana city tennis championships were announced today by Merle S. Ewell, tournament director for the Public Playgrounds. A revision was necessary, Ewell said, because certain entrants had transferred from Division A to Division B, others had withdrawn altogether, and one or two new players enrolled.

Ewell indicated that no other changes will be allowed, but new entries will be received up to the end of this week.

The revised schedule:
Monday (Class A)—Demers vs. White; West vs. Greenwood; Eustis vs. Cress; Ramey vs. Bell; Park vs. Rawlings; Slaback vs. Finster.

Tuesday (Class B)—Robinson vs. W. C. Smith; W. M. Burke vs. Foster; Franklin Burke vs. Ault; Cavery vs. Styling; Lee vs. Bettis; Coulson vs. Brown.

Wednesday (Class A)—West vs. McPherson; Hafer vs. Ward; Randall vs. Finster; Demers vs. Ramey; Wetherell vs. Rawlings; Bell vs. Moon.

Thursday (Class A)—Slaback vs. White; Moon vs. Wetherell; Ward vs. Finster; Zimmerman vs. Ward.

Friday (Class B)—Robinson vs. W. M. Burke; W. C. Smith vs. Foster; T. A. Willis vs. R. B. Willis; F. Burke vs. Styling; Ault vs. Cavery; Brown vs. Archer.

PAAVO NURMI SETS MARK IN MARATHON

VIBORG, Finland, June 27.—(UP)—Paavo Nurmi, famous "Flying Finn," today claimed a new world record of 2 hours 22 minutes 3.8 seconds for the short marathon distance of 40,200 meters (24.97 miles) made yesterday during the Finnish Olympic tryouts.

While no official world record is listed for 40,200 meters, Nurmi's record claims are based on the fact that he eclipsed the world mark for 25 miles set at 2:25:29.4 by H. Green of Great Britain in 1913. He beat Green's time by more than five minutes, and difference in distance is slightly less than 3-100 of a mile.

Nurmi's run was over a shorter distance than the Olympic marathon course, which is 26 miles, 385 yards.

Lund Forfeits 'B' Net Play to Smith

Herbert Smith was today declared Class B singles champion of the Santa Ana Tennis club. He won by default from Arnold Lund in what was to have been a final round match yesterday.

Russell Lee defeated Dave Styling, 6-1, 6-2, in the final round of Class B consolation competition.

WESTMINSTER C. C. BACKS WATER WORK

WESTMINSTER, June 27.—A special directors' meeting of the Westminster Chamber of Commerce was held June 27 for the purpose of discussing and voting on a resolution to retain the county flood control office.

the suggestion of the president, Henry Schmitz. The resolution was as follows: "The Westminster Chamber of Commerce wishes to commend the work of the flood control office and recommends that the work be continued."

"We realize the importance of accurate data in the forthcoming conflict over the allocation of the waters of the Santa Ana river and strongly recommend that the flood control office classify records in order to present Orange county's case with sufficient supporting data to command respect."

The move that the resolution be adopted was made by Dr. Russell L. Johnson and seconded by Charles Sigler, and was carried.

MIDWAY CITY

MIDWAY CITY, June 27.—Two social events took place this week in the home of Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Peters gave a card party, two tables being in play. Refreshments were served by the Misses Anabel Day, Phyllis Day, Kathleen Forrester, Reggie Lake, Kenneth Peters and Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Peters.

A dinner party brought a group of relatives to the Peters home, Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Smith, their daughters, Betty and Delda Smith, of Los Angeles, and two young men, guests from Texas, and Mr. and Mrs. R. M. McKee, of Los Angeles, completing the party.

Miss Vanona Wortby, who is to attend summer school, leaves next Monday for U. C. L. A.

Mrs. M. J. P. Heil visited Tuesday at the Santa Ana Valley hospital with her sister-in-law, Mrs. Junior Brown, of Tustin, who was returning to her home that day, and with another sister-in-law, Mrs. Vernon Heil, who last Saturday was operated on at that institution.

Eunice Davies and Mrs. Myrtle Robertson were co-honorees at a surprise party held this week in observance of their birthday anniversaries. Cleverly laid plans took the honorees and their families to Huntington Beach, where the honorees found a group of La Ha-bra friends already there with tables set for the serving of the basket luncheon. Another surprise came with the presentation to the two of a small suit case which when opened was found to contain a lovely array of shandkerchiefs and other pretty gifts.

The party motored to Westminster to the home of two members of the party, Mr. and Mrs. George Clough, where cards were played and Mr. Clough entertained with pipe organ selections.

Those in the party included the honorees and their husbands, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Robertson and Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Davies, of Midway City; Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Walker and two children, Mr. and Mrs.

Chester Schuepach, Mr. and Mrs. T. P. Davis and two children, Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Lutewiller, of La Habra; Mr. and Mrs. Emmet Smith, of Garden Grove; Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Day and Mr. and Mrs. George Clough, of Westminster.

SUNSET BEACH

SUNSET BEACH, June 27.—Miss Louise Wood, of Coast Highway, is spending her vacation with her aunt, Mrs. Joseph W. Wood, of Willowbrook.

Mrs. Walter Jamieson and son, Robert, and daughter, Carla, of Los Potos road, have left for Iowa to spend the summer months with Mrs. Jamieson's father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. L. Townsend, Mrs. Townsend will be remembered by residents of Sunset Beach as she spent a winter here.

While separating two dogs engaged in a fight, Mr. Westerfelt received a severe injury on his hand.

Mrs. A. E. Brown, of San Diego, is staying in one of the Armitage apartments on Coast highway.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Dawson and son, of San Diego, are occupying Mrs. Dolly Coxson's cottage on Bay View drive.

Arthur Herring is recovering from an injured ankle suffered while in swimming.

S. V. Varley and son, Glenn, of Bay View drive, have opened up a first-class fish market at the corner of Coast highway and Broadway.

Mrs. Grace Schlosser, of Ocean avenue, who has been ill for some time, is now convalescing at Lake Elsinore.

W. L. Anderson, of Perris, has opened a small dry goods store on the Coast highway.

500 Attend Annual Pilgrimage Of Legion District

DELEGATES IN CONFERENCE AT H.B. TWO DAYS

HUNTINGTON BEACH, June 27.—The first annual pilgrimage of the American Legion and Legion auxiliary of the 21st district was held here over the week end, with about 500 veterans and their wives attending the two-day program and outing at the beach. The 21st district includes Riverside, San Bernardino and Orange counties.

The city was gaily decorated for the visitors. Saturday morning was spent in enjoying swimming, fishing and beach games and athletic contests. Saturday afternoon the 40 and 8 of Orange county initiated a group of new members. The initiation ceremonies were held in the beach pavilion, with several hundred spectators attending.

Saturday afternoon the Legion auxiliary members and their guests and friends enjoyed a card party at Memorial hall, erected here as a memorial to the veterans of all wars and in which quarters are provided for the Legion and auxiliary for the life of the organization.

Saturday night a dance was given at Memorial hall. It was open to the Legion and their friends and several hundred couples attended. Preceding the ball the veterans marched in parade through the business district, disbanding at the civic center at Memorial hall. Judge C. P. Patton of the municipal court, representing the city government, delivered the address of welcome to the visitors.

Those who remained over Sunday spent the day in conferences and social sessions held in Memorial hall.

8 MEN BOOKED ON LIQUOR CHARGES

NEWPORT BEACH, June 27.—Newport Beach police over the week end hauled into headquarters eight men, who were either drunk or were in possession of liquor. Howard Hollowell, a Riverside laborer, was brought in Saturday night for being drunk. Dan Cotter, Los Angeles waiter, and Bill Glowsky, a cook at the Balboa hotel, were brought in on the same charge. Frank Chinn, a Long Beach life guard, Judson Williamson, who gave his occupation as a cook at Whittier; J. H. Keeney, an engineer residing on Balboa island, and R. W. Rodgers, a rancher living near Santa Ana, were picked up for possession of liquor.

Work Of Sunday School Union In Southland Told

PLACENTIA, June 27.—The Rev. O. U. Bodie, San Diego head of the Southern Pacific division of the American Sunday School union, told of the work of the organization at Calvary church yesterday morning. The union is composed of workers whose efforts are centered on establishing Sunday school in out of the way districts where no churches are in existence. Last year, the 11 missionaries in the district established 42 Sunday schools and 58 daily vacation Bible schools, he said, besides distributing many Bibles.

The slogan of the society is "A BIBLE in every home and every child in Sunday school."

The Rev. Mr. Bodie said there are still many districts in his territory that needs working.

STUCCO HOME PLANNED

WESTMINSTER, June 24.—A modern six-room stucco house is to be built in Westminster by Louis Claus, Midway City man, a recent arrival here from Long Beach. The house is to be built on the property north of Westminster school, the former site of the creamery which some years ago was one of the main business projects of Westminster.

Farewell Party For Yorba Linda Girls In Church

YORBA LINDA, June 27.—Epworth leaguers of the Methodist church had as guests Friday the Christian Endeavor of the Friends church and other young people of the community in a farewell party for Capt. Josephine and Mary Neeley and for Elmore and Carolyn Pickering. It was held in the social hall of the Friends church.

More than 30 attended to bid farewell to the young people, who started Saturday for the east. The evening was spent at playing games and refreshments were served.

The Neely girls, with Mrs. Neely, left for a visit in Tennessee and Carolyn and Elmore are to accompany their father, A. C. Pickering, to Indiana, where they will visit and will return in the fall with Mrs. Pickering, who has spent the spring there with relatives.

CIRCLE MEMBERS LUNCHEON GUESTS

GARDEN GROVE, June 27.—Mrs. S. C. Oertly and Mrs. P. M. Magnuson entertained circle No. 2 of the Women's Aid society with a 1 o'clock luncheon in the former's home on North Euclid street recently. In the afternoon Mrs. Percy Lampman, president, presided at the business session. It was decided to have a picnic at Anaheim city park in July.

Mrs. Arthur Schnitzer led devotionals and gave a talk on the subject, "Our Duty." Two comforts were tied during the afternoon.

Those present were Dr. and Mrs. Floyd J. Seaman, Mrs. E. Dozier, Mrs. S. R. Pitt, Mrs. Arthur Schnitzer, Mrs. Wilbur Harper, Mrs. Percy Lampman, Mrs. C. N. Frank, Mrs. L. W. Schaner, and the hostess.

BALBOA RESIDENT CALLED BY DEATH

NEWPORT BEACH, June 27.—Mrs. Hilda Pellett, wife of Le Grand Pellett, Jr., of Washington avenue, Balboa, passed away at their home here yesterday following a brief illness. The body was removed to the Cheung Funeral home at Costa Mesa.

Mrs. Pellett was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gustav Schneider, of Trenton, N. J. She leaves two brothers, Ludwig and Carl Schneider, both of Trenton, and three sisters, Julia, Louise and Sophie Schneider, of the same city. Mrs. Pellett was a member of the German Lutheran church and of the Pythian Sisters lodge.

'SMOLDERING EMBERS' TOPIC BREA PASTOR

BREA, June 27.—The Rev. Donald F. Gaylord, pastor of Brea Congregational church, spoke yesterday on the topic, "Smoldering Embers," from the text, "Then shall thy light rise in obscurity and thy darkness be as noonday." Is. 58: 10. The pastor said in part:

"Thus the great prophet of the exile speaks to us. Formal religion is flourishing, but true religion seems to be languishing. Our light grows dim, our fires but smoldering embers frequently. Our light must burn brighter and we must heed this prophet's call."

"Our religious fires are burning low today, a very easy falling in us all. In talking about our religion we forget to partake of the religion itself. Jesus is not so much to be talked about as to be followed, and thus our knowledge of Him will grow. Honest differences of opinion can and will occur and it is healthy to discuss them, to think them through carefully, but quibbling is not right. If a man is not quite straight, he knows it, and if a woman does not do right, she knows it, and they do not need to be shown. We need the fire to act on what we know, what we plainly see as Christians and what we honestly believe to be right, according to our best lights."

"We need constantly to replenish the flame that has died down. Mere mechanical worship such as reading the Bible through as a stilt, long dreary family prayers may well go. But what is left? How much time in a week do we give to reading the Bible? How much to prayer? If these things are neglected, how can we live? We cannot neglect the great sources of our inspiration. Where else will we find it? If we do not know how to pray, should we not be trying to learn? And the fire must truly burn and it must burn itself up if it is to give light and heat, else it will be smothered in smoke. So our inspiration must give a man power, his prayers must find some visible expression. We must do, as well as think and pray. Expression of service must come from a real honest fire."

"A mistake we often make is conforming our lives to a pattern, rather than filling our lives with Christianity, and allow it to express itself spontaneously. Our most crying need today is not any particular kind of religion nor knowledge of this or that, but that we should truly catch fire."

On the various gravities of oil the price increase will range from 14 cents on the lower gravities to 25 cents on 27 gravity oil.

COMMUNITY FORMS FIRE DEPARTMENT

MIDWAY CITY, June 27.—A fire department is now fully organized with officers and 14 men, with several honorary members who will join the force if necessity arises. Equipment necessary has been itemized and the entire amount necessary for this is given at $200. It is expected that the first of the equipment will be purchased at once and from time to time this will be added to.

Harold Robertson is fire chief and Chester Campbell is assistant chief; Fred Lemm, captain; N. A. Nelson, secretary-treasurer; Dr. Russell I. Johnson, president and physician; Wayne Arnett, Boyd Davis, R. L. Callahan, Jack Houlahan, Henry Dutton, Calvin Van Steenburgh, Robert Keller, Aden Moore, Floyd Wright, S. A. Miller.

Among honorary members are Robert Hazard, Ed. L. Hensley, Henry Schmidt, William Schmidt and E. N. McAllister.

Swim Enjoyed By Placentia Scouts

PLACENTIA, June 27.—Following a supper cooked over an open fire near Roy Hill's home, the Placentia Boy Scout troop went swimming in the Fullerton plunge Friday night.

Among the recent accomplishments of boys, recognized at the short business session, were the winning of merit badges by David Miller, Albert Quoyel, Mark Muir, Wallace Teed, Charles Feemster and Billy Douglas. Roy is working for his Eagle badge and Willbur Wydyk has just passed a second class Scout test.

W. C. T. U. Leader Speaks Tuesday

Fullerton, June 27.—The home economics section of Fullerton Ebell club elected Mrs. J. E. Welin chairman for the coming year at the final meeting of the session Friday in the Carbon canyon home of Mrs. O. H. Cullner. Mrs. Welin replaces Miss Elsie Moore, who has been chairman of the section the past year.

More than 20 members and guests attended. An informal covered dish luncheon was served at noon and after a short business session the guests spent the day at chatting and sewing.

CLUB MEMBERS MEET
MIDWAY CITY, June 27.—Starlight club members were guests Friday in the home of Mrs. Charles Whitte, when Mrs. Whitte and Mrs. Mary Zeigler, of Buena Park, were co-hostesses to the group. Sixteen women were present.

Those present were Mrs. Inez Cooke, Mrs. Lena Heaston, Mrs. Jean McAdams, Mrs. Maude Patrick, Mrs. Verdie Rime, Mrs. Reba Davis, Mrs. Margaret Burleycamp, Mrs. Eleanor Lambert, Mrs. Louise Stout, Mrs. Effie Lee Channess, Mrs. Martha White, Mrs. Lois Robb, Mrs. Blanche James, Mrs. Hortense Paxton, Mrs. Mary Zeigler and Mrs. Lillian Whitte.

200 ATTEND PICNIC OF CHURCH AT IRVINE PARK

FULLERTON, June 27.—Nearly 200 parishioners attended the Presbyterian church picnic Saturday at Irvine park, where the day was spent at games and sports and where a basket dinner was served at noon for the entire group. The church served ice cream, both at lunch and again in the afternoon to the children.

Henry MacMaster was general chairman of the affair. Under Arthur C. Terrill and his committee, William Switzer, clerk of the races; Lloyd Verry, Ernest Von Gruenigen and Harry May, races and sports events were held. Dr. Graham C. Hunter gave ribbon awards for the winners of events.

In the afternoon, Dr. Harold Gobar was in charge of a parachute contest. T. J. McCart had charge of the horseshoe games and Mr. Von Gruenigen of the baseball event. Mrs. Terrill cared for the smaller children in the afternoon in story telling classes.

STANDARD OIL BOOSTS PRICE TO PRODUCERS

HUNTINGTON BEACH, June 27.—The price of oil of 27 gravity went up in the Huntington Beach field today 25 cents a barrel, making $1 a barrel oil here for the first time in over a year. The operators met the curtailment requirements and Standard Oil of California posted the price increase as effective today.

It is felt here that the independent operators will stick by the curtailment and that the price will be maintained. The increase is subject to curtailment being maintained. A few operators are skeptical as to a price that is based on curtailment, and express the opinion that the temptation to produce over the allotment may lead to what is termed "bootleg" oil being produced and stored to be peddled out as spot oil at a price under the market.

Bob Hickerson, in charge of curtailment for this field as a representative of the operators, stated that curtailment must be strictly adhered to in order to hold the price at $1 a barrel. He pointed out that the operators would profit more in the long run by curtailment and higher prices than by violating the terms under which the price increase was obtained.

On the various gravities of oil the price increase will range from 14 cents on the lower gravities to 25 cents on 27 gravity oil.

COSTA MESA GROUP TO HEAR EDITOR

COSTA MESA, June 27.—J. P. Burke, editor of the Santa Ana Register, will be the speaker of the June Brotherhood meeting tonight. He will speak on the subject, "Today's Challenge to Christian Laymen."

All men are invited to the dinner which will be served in the social hall at 6:45 p. m. The public is invited to hear the address, to be given in the church auditorium at 8 o'clock.

John Pemberton, chairman of the Welfare committee, reported that 23 families had received help from the commissary.

A vote of thanks was extended all the merchants and other people of the community for their hearty co-operation.

One hundred and thirty-eight persons were present. Music was furnished by local talent.

$43 Is Secured For Milk Fund

FULLERTON, June 27.—More than $43 was cleared when the Fullerton City Nurse association held the first of a series of teas at the Commonwealth park to raise funds for the milk supplied to children of the city.

Officers of the association, Mrs. Grace Johnson, president; Mrs. W. T. Brown, Mrs. L. B. Steward and Mrs. Carry Ford, with Mrs. Elizabeth McFadden, city nurse, were hostesses.

Tea was served at table set on the lawns, after which Miss Carlson, in charge of the county welfare work talked. In connection with the tea, a food sale was held.

Shook Returned As Library Head

YORBA LINDA, June 27.—Ralph Shook was returned to the library board of the district at an election Friday. A light vote was cast, showing unanimous ballot for the incumbent, who is president. Other members of the board are Mrs. J. J. Carter and A. J. Moritz.

BOY SCOUTS TO HAVE FLOAT IN LIGHTS FIESTA

NEWPORT BEACH, June 27.—Newport Beach Boy Scouts, who have an enviable record for taking first prizes in Scout competitions in Southern California during recent years, will compete in a big way for the first prize in their class in the 14th annual Newport-Balboa Tournament of Lights here July 14.

Formal entry for the Boy Scouts in the big aquatic parade was made today by A. J. Twist, Scoutmaster. The local troop will decorate and illuminate a float depicting fishing and running in the Olympic Games, for which a series of special trophies are being awarded in this year's "Lights."

The Newport bay unit of Sea Scouts also plans to enter the lights fiesta and several other Boy Scout and Sea units of Orange county are considering entering the competition. It was announced today by Harry H. Williamson, chairman of the Tournament committee of the Newport Harbor Chamber of Commerce, sponsors of the event.

The youngest yacht club in Newport Bay, the West Newport Yacht club, will have a float in the organization division of the parade, it was stated today by Ralph P. Maskey, West Newport real estate developer and commodore of the new club. The West Newport Improvement association is also expected to enter.

Two other local yacht clubs are coming in also, according to word reaching the chamber today. These are the Newport Harbor and Balboa yacht clubs, which have always had outstanding entries in the lights fete. Last year the latter won the special prize for the best decorated house and pier, for which trophies will again be awarded this year.

Lido Isle will have an entry representing that community, and more than a dozen Lido Isle residents, recent arrivals here, will decorate and light their boats for the parade, Williamson said today.

Simona Posey was bridesmaid, while Leonard Logsdon, brother of the bride, attended the groom. The bride graduated from the Newport Harbor Union High school this month, and held high scholastic records.

Lovely refreshments were served. The happy couple left early in the evening for a honeymoon to be spent at Mt. Baldy. They will make their home on the corner of Elden avenue and Virginia place.

Addresses Heard Yesterday In Santa Ana Churches

SERMON THEME OF PASTOR IS
"FATHERHOOD"

Discussing the subject, "Fatherhood," the Rev. James E. Fisk, pastor of the El Modena Friends church, delivered an interesting sermon yesterday morning. The Rev. Schmitt of Santa Ana read the morning lesson and was in charge of the prayer service.

The Rev. Fisk said, in part: "I want to talk about some things that are embodied in fatherhood, and of some of the things required in order that we might be the sons and daughters of God. It is a great privilege to have a father. We have stressed Mother's day, but the fathers have been neglected. I thought in this connection of Abraham Lincoln, the father of our nation, and then I thought of the different men who have begotten great inventions. There are the different men who hold patent rights on machinery which is of benefit to mankind. He have a saying, he was the father of that."

"I thought of the great place a father holds in the family. Some women are capable of carrying on business better than their husbands, but not often. The home is never so successful without the father."

"The Lord has said to you, 'If you will come out and be a separate people I will be a Father to you. God created the world and put man in it, and sin entered through man. All the disturbances in the world came through man. Man can do and does do much more in the world than he thinks he does. Sin came into the world through Eve. Cain killed Abel, and Seth was raised up in Abel's place. So there were two classes of people in the world, Cain's descendants and Seth's descendants. While God was the Father of Seth, Cain through his rebelliousness and his will power, became an enemy of God and of the home. Just as truly as God created man, man has to come back and be His child. There is only one door to get back into the kingdom of God."

"Sin came into the world, and John said 'Ye must be born again.' We are children of wrath. We come into this world with our faces turned away from God. We can be made heirs of the kingdom only through spiritual birth. We look at the material world and we know some of the things we must do for existence. There are two worlds—the material world and the spiritual world. God is our Father. If you will leave the material world, and come out from the worship of idols, come out from among them and be a separate people. He will be our Father. If He is our Father, we are a family. After we are born into the kingdom, we have blood right. The estate of God is everything in this world."

SMELTZER

SMELTZER, June 27.—Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Lewis were in Los Angeles Sunday, visiting Mr. Lewis' mother, Mrs. Laura Lewis.

POLITICAL PLATFORM OF INDIVIDUAL IS SUBJECT OF SERMON LAST NIGHT

Declaring that every thinking citizen should have his own personal political platform, not for the purpose of securing votes but for clarifying the individual's thinking, the Rev. Perry Frederick Schrock, pastor of the First Congregational church, delivered a forceful address on the subject, "The Political Platform I Would Write," in a sermon delivered last night.

"I have my own platform," the speaker went on to say, "but I would not expect to be elected to any office upon it. It would be the platform upon which I would be defeated were I a candidate for office. What this country needs is more people who are trying to think their way through some of the questions of the day. Something drastically constructive must be done if this nation of ours is to be saved from chaos. I am going to have the temerity to attempt to state what some of the things are that must be done. I state them in the form of a political platform. I will make the platform in three divisions, governmental, social and international."

Governmental

I. Reduce Cost of Government.

1. Reorganize departments and bureaus of government. There can be combinations and eliminations that would greatly increase efficiency and reduce cost. President Hoover could and would do it if congress would permit him to do so.

2. Eliminate Congressional graft. Forbid nepotism—the putting of relatives upon the payroll. Limit mileage allowance to actual cost of actual miles traveled. Revoke the franking privilege which is so greatly abused and contributes so generously to the deficit of the post office department.

3. Reduce army and navy to police dimensions. Willing to accept the Hoover proposal of one-third reduction.

4. Stop the pension graft. Adequate care on a basis of need ought to be provided for every man who was disabled in the service of his country. But to pay pension to a man who never was disabled and perhaps never saw active service is pure graft and ought to be stopped.

II. Production of Revenue. The unequal distribution of wealth is one of the chief reasons for the depression. Money is in the hands of a few people who simply cannot spend it. The many who might spend it have no money. A heavy tax on the swollen incomes would help distribute the wealth. There ought to be a surtax of at least 85 to 90 per cent on incomes over $100,000.

2. Confiscate illegally earned incomes. Not enough to send a man to jail or fine him for failure to pay income tax on illegal incomes. Take the income. I would make short selling on the stock market illegal and income so earned ought to be confiscated.

III. A Moratorium on Political Parties. I stand for the election, or appointment to office of the best man available without regard to political affiliations. If government could be conducted with the interest of the country as the sole interest, and no concern whatsoever for the welfare of political ambitions, prosperity could soon be induced to come around the corner.

Social Platform
I. Compulsory Unemployment Insurance. The insurance fund to be contributed by employee, employer and state.

II. Public Ownership and Control of Five Natural Resources. Coal, iron, oil, timber, water power. Would leave manufacture and marketing to private initiative. But in order to prevent waste and conserve the future supply, and distribute the wealth of the resources that belong to all, the production and control should be in the hands of the government. This would solve the tax problem in a few years. Income from these natural resources would practically support the government.

III. A Five Day Working Week With An Eight Hour Day as a Maximum. Farming, because of its seasonal character, ought to be excepted. A man ought to be able to earn enough to support a family with five days work per week.

IV. Uniform Laws for Protection of Women and Children in Industry. Speech making maiden ladies, with private incomes, oppose laws for the protection of women. But the mothers who work ought to be protected—whether they want it or not.

V. Uniform Marriage and Divorce Laws.

Laws ought to be reasonable and liberal, not Puritanical and fanatical. Included with these laws ought to be the legalization of the giving of information about birth control by physicians and reputable clinics. Also some elementary eugenic provisions. I advocate the sterilization of the hereditary insane, the feeble minded and the confirmed criminal.

VI. Federal Regulation of the Motion Picture Industry. It is the only method of regulation that is fair both to the industry and to the public.

VII. Absolutely Right of Free Speech and Assembly.

If, in the exercise of free speech or assembly, laws are violated, let the offender suffer the penalty.

VIII. Retention of 13th Amendment.

While not a success it is the best method proposed for the control of this public evil. I stand for the right of the people to repeal the amendment—by the same method as adopted. I advocate strict enforcement of the laws. Would make the buyer of illegal liquor equally guilty with the seller. Would use army and navy as enforcement agencies. They are all dressed up and no place to go. Let us give them something to do.

IX. In Case of War Conscription of Wealth as Well as Man Power.

Included in this would be the government manufacture and distribution of all military supplies. Take the profit out of war.

X. Emergency Unemployment Relief.

Burdens is too great for public charity. I advocate the issuance of government bonds for relief. Provide work as far as possible but give direct aid where necessary.

International Affairs

I. Immediate entrance into the League of Nations and World Court.

II. Cancellation of war debts of all nations who will reduce armed forces to police dimensions.

III. Grant absolute free trade with all nations who will reciprocate.

IV. Invoke international boycott.

through League of Nations, of any nation that seizes additional territory or economic advantage through force.

EVANGELIST IN FAREWELL TALK
AT TABERNACLE

"Signs of the Times," was the subject chosen by Evangelist W. R. Watson when he preached his farewell sermon at the Paul Rader Tabernacle here last night. The evangelist begins a campaign in Pasadena at the Paul Rader Tabernacle Tuesday. He will be heard once more in Santa Ana, however, before he leaves, as he will speak at the Tate Sisters Gospel meeting at West Fifth and Forest streets tonight.

Taking his text from Luke 17:26 "As it was in the days of Noah," the evangelist pictured the conditions in the days of Noah, and compared them with present day conditions. He said "the days of Noah were days of great inventions, and these are days of great inventions."

"The days of Noah were days of unbelief, Jesus said, they knew not until the flood came and took them all away." It wasn't because they hadn't been told, for Noah had warned them faithfully for 120 years that the flood was coming, but they wouldn't listen to him. These are days of unbelief. People are being warned that Jesus is coming, and the tribulation is about to break on the Old World, but people won't listen or believe it.

"The colleges and many pulpits of the land are honeycombed with unbelief. All you can hear is, I don't believe one has to be born again, I don't believe the blood of Christ atones for sin, I don't believe that Christ was born of the Virgin, I don't believe Jesus is coming again, I don't believe this, and I don't believe that. Jesus said this would be the condition when He returned, for he said it was in the days of Noah so shall it be in the days of the coming of the Son of Man."

"The days of Noah were days of intemperance, Jesus said they were eating and drinking, that is to excess, living to eat instead of eating to live. These are days of intemperance. Anytime of the day or night you can find people in the cafes eating and drinking. They have even turned the churches into eating houses, and places of feasting, and if Jesus was to come he would go in and kick an ice cream freezer out one window, and a soup pot out the other and cry as he did in days of old, 'My house shall be called of all nations a house of prayer.'"

"The days of Noah were days of worldliness, Jesus said, 'They bought, they sold, they planted, they builded until the flood came and took them all away.' That is, their thoughts were all of this world. Paul said, 'In the last days men would be lovers of pleasure more than lovers of God,' and that is the condition now."

FORCEFUL ADDRESS ON GROWTH OF INDIVIDUAL
PRESENTED BY BISHOP

"The more the marble wastes away, the more the statue grows," Bishop Charles Edward Locke, former Bishop of the Philippine Islands and of St. Paul area, said at the Fullerton First Methodist church yesterday morning, preaching on Romans 14:7, "For none of us liveth to himself."

Bishop Locke, in Southern California for the present, and planning to attend the Methodist conference at Long Beach this week, talked in forceful manner of the necessity of individuals giving to others in order that the individual might develop.

"There is a masterpiece of personality in every individual which can be brought forth and shaped by divinity, but it is impossible to develop and shape that personality if the individual is selfish and lives for himself only. It is impossible for selfish individuals to reach distinction," he said.

"There is no rhyme nor reason in selfish, pontifical individualism."

"The philosophy of self preservation moves in a circle and never arrives. The great purpose of life should be 'what must I do to save others' and the object of any decent individual human life is 'uplift.'"

"Whether we will it or not, we are our brothers keeper and who does not see his fellowman and work for his welfare, cannot see the face of God. We cannot de-

Wedding Anniversary is Observed at D. A. V. Convention

Santa Ana members of the Fisher chapter and auxiliary, Disabled Veterans of the World War, share with other Orange county members, the memories of an unusually pleasant social affair held in connection with the recent national convention of the D. A. V. in San Diego, when the thirtieth wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. David R. Day of Fullerton, was celebrated.

Mr. and Mrs. Day were made guests of honor at a turkey dinner for which the French room of the U. S. Grant hotel in the convention city, was reserved.

State, district and chapter D. A. V. and auxiliary officers were among the dinner guests who joined in expressing to Mr. and Mrs. Day, their congratulations upon the anniversary and good wishes for many succeeding observances.

In the party were William A. Baird, state commander D. A. V. and Mrs. Baird, Miss Martha Anderson, state commander Women's auxiliary; Manford Bennett, state chaplain D. A. V.; Harry Pickard, state department chief of staff, and Mrs. Pickard; Jack Burke, Fourth district commander, state department, and Mrs. Burke, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Edwards, Mrs. Mary Fisher, Miss Lydia Fisher, Mr. and Mrs. W. D. A. V. Auxiliary Wins Honors at National Convention

Returning from the National convention of the Women's Auxiliary of the Disabled American Veterans of the World War held at San Diego June 18 to 25, were the following delegates and alternates: Rose Edith Baker, state commander of the state department; Katherine Rasmussen, commander of the Women's Auxiliary Jack Fisher Chapter No. 23, Orange county; Lydia M. Fisher, junior past commander of Jack Fisher auxiliary; Ella Pickard, state patriotic instructor; Mary Fisher, Hilda Riehl, Hazel Chittenden, Marie Brewer, Genevieve Day, Evelyn Inhoff, Beulah Curran and Rose Alexander. Other members of the auxiliary attending for part or all of the convention were Harriett Corie, Edith Redford, Anne Leach, Lois Mandy, Dorothy Glaser and Sallie Stephens.

They report San Diego outstanding among convention cities, entertainment having been planned for every moment when the convention was not in business session. Among the entertainment features was the Pre-convention ball on Saturday evening, June 18, at the Broadway Pier ballroom. The banquet and convention ball were held Monday evening at Coronado hotel. The Schumann-Heink ball on Friday evening also was held at the Broadway Pier ballroom and Madame Ernestine Schumann-Heink made a personal appearance and sang several numbers. She also opened the convention Monday morning with the singing of the "Star Spangled Banner" and later in the morning sang "Taps" at the memorial service.

At the election held Friday afternoon Mrs. Frieda Mooney of Los Angeles was unanimously re-elected national commander. She named Ann Weber of Colorado Springs as national adjutant to serve her second year. Other elective and appointive officers are scattered throughout the various districts of the United States, Katherine Rasmussen of Santa Ana being appointed executive committee women in the 12th district.

Jack Fisher auxiliary was presented a beautiful trophy and a citation for outstanding work on membership during the past year, having reached the largest membership in the United States. Miss Lydia M. Fisher was commander and Mrs. Ella M. Pickard, membership chairman, when this was accomplished.

This pleasing recognition accorded the local organization at the national convention, followed similar recognition at the state convention held in mid-May in Modesto, when three handsome trophies were awarded for membership.

The Floating Membership cup which last year was won by Los Angeles auxiliary No. 5, was awarded Jack Fisher auxiliary. This cup is the gift of Ella Taylor, past state commander.

The second trophy won at the state convention, that given by the state department of the Disabled American Veterans, while the trophy offered by Mrs. Edwards, state commander of the D. A. V. auxiliary, to the California member serving the most members for her chapter in the twelfth month, was won by Mrs. Mary Fisher, mother of the World War hero for whom the local chapter is named. She brought in an even half hundred new members during the year.

Class Picnic Attracts Family Groups to Irvine Park

Motoring to Irvine park Saturday afternoon, 147 members and friends of the Men's and Women's Bible classes of Calvary church, together with their families, enjoyed a delightful picnic. Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Mercereau are teachers of the two classes.

Following a series of games and contests, the climax of the happy event came with the serving of dinner at 6 o'clock. Community singing of favorite hymns concluded the program.

Special guests were the pastor, the Rev. Frank E. Lindgren and Mrs. Lindgren and son, Frank Jr., and the Sunday school superintendent, C. E. Pollins and Mrs. Pollins.

The committee in charge of arrangements for the successful affair included Mr. and Mrs. Barker Woodward, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph H. Hazen, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur H. Blanding, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin H. Mueller, Mr. and Mrs. D. P. Leonard, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Barsille, Mr. and Mrs. George C. Tyler, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur W. Lindgren, Mr. and Mrs. George Masin, Mr. and Mrs. Harold W. Smith and Miss Ruth Smith.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Executive Board members of the American Legion auxiliary will meet Thursday in the home of Mrs. Mary Crissman, 617 South Birch street, for a covered dish dinner to be served at noon.

Veteran Rebekahs are anticipating an all-day meeting for Friday when they will be entertained in the ranch home of Mrs. Martha Ritchey on McFadden street. Each Veteran Rebekah will be expected to contribute to the covered dish menu to be served at noon, and each is reminded to take her own needs in table service.

The Women's Forum club at its meeting tomorrow night at 7:30 o'clock in the Y. W. clubrooms, is to have the unusual entertainment of a short play, "The Return of Aunt Deborah," presented by members of the organization.

STUDIO OPENING COMBINED WITH MUSICAL ARTS DINNER

Brilliant in the extreme was the function given Saturday night in this city, when, combined with the presentation of a charter to the Musical Arts club, was the formal opening of the handsome new Music-Arts studios of Clarence Gustlin on North Sycamore street. The dinner feature of the evening, attracting nearly a hundred guests, 25 of whom were from the parent club of Long Beach, was held in the Doris Kathryn Tea Shoppe on North Main street, scene of the weekly luncheons of the Santa Ana club.

Flowers used to deck the tables at the Doris Kathryn were dazzling in color and beauty, but no less striking were the floral appointments of the Music-Arts studio, where the quaint Victorian chandeliers with their cut glass prisms shed a softly brilliant light on the scene.

You and Your Friends

Major and Mrs. Earl Hawks, 2045 South Broadway, are entertaining at their guests, their daughter, Miss Mildred E. Hawks, a teacher in the high school at Marquette, Mich., who arrived yesterday for her summer vacation, and their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Lowell O. Rues and young daughters, Joy Nadene and Donna Jeanne, of Oshkosh, Wis.

The visiting officers were introduced by Mrs. Matthews, and in turn responded with short talks, some of them extremely witty and amusing, especially that of Mrs. W. A. Kalk, social chairman, who imposed some diverting fines in connection with her sparkling little talk.

These friendly guest honors were accorded Mrs. Nina Wolfe Dickinson, president; Mrs. Alice Durham, program chairman; Mrs. Kalk, social chairman; and Mrs. Fred Clark, extension chairman. It was Mrs. Clark's privilege to present the charter to the local organization, which she did with a gracious and friendly little address.

Officer-Honors
Santa Ana officers in addition to Mrs. Matthews, president, were Holly Lash Visel, vice president and program chairman; Clarence Gustlin, membership chairman; Miss Dorothy Mayhew, secretary; Miss Edith Cornell, parliamentarian; Mrs. W. B. Snow, historian; Dorey Paige Harper, educational chairman; Ione Tunison Peak, publicity chairman; Milton Foster, treasurer; Irma Huffman May, social chairman, and Carolyn Houghton, finance chairman.

Informal songs enlivened the dinner hour with Earl Fraser at the piano and Cecyle Fross Willets leading. These all had the virtue of originality, for words in every case had been written by club members, and music in some cases had been composed by Mr. Fraser.

At New Studio
Adjoining after the dinner hour to the Music-Arts studio, guests were welcomed by Mr. and Mrs. Gustlin, and given the opportunity to inspect the remodeled building, so well adapted for its new purpose. It had been famous for its hospital for many years as the Dr. J. R. Medlock home, and in it, Mrs. Gustlin formerly Miss Velda Medlock, had spent her girlhood. To add to the touch of intimacy and beauty of the evening, Mrs. Medlock, who had reigned graciously over the home for so many years, was presented formally to the guests, and assisted Mr. and Mrs. Gustlin in dispensing hospitality.

A loan exhibit of paintings by famous artists had been placed in the studio by Mrs. Burford of the Fern Burford Galleries, Laguna Beach, and she was present to give any information regarding the art and their work.

Long Beach guests had brought their scrap book with them, and everyone enjoyed seeing it and its clever illustrations, the work of various gifted artists.

After an informal period of inspecting the beautiful studio and establishing more firmly the bonds of friendship between the two neighboring city organizations, chairs were placed in the two adjoining music rooms, to give the effect of an auditorium, and the formal program presented.

It seemed doubly appropriate that the first number should be one of the host's own compositions, his beautiful "Spring Song," rendered very effectively by the double quartet of the Santa Ana Musical Arts club, Cecyle Fross Willets, Holly Lash Visel, Edith Cornell, Leonora Tompkins, Sally Lee Seales, Mrs. Charles G. Nalle, Irma Huffman May and Marie Bishop.

Irwald Wicks, talented Long Beach violinist and composer, played two numbers, a Polka Song and a Dance, from his own "Norwegian Suite," with Mrs. Wicks as his accompanist. Rollo Alford, also from the beach city, followed with a vocal group, beautifully sung to his wife's accompaniment, "Tally Ho" and other numbers were returned.

The Santa Ana double quartet followed this with a Brahms "Lullaby," and Mr. Gustlin brought the program to a conclusion with piano numbers played with that depth of expression and faultless technique that distinguishes his work. A brilliant concert study and a Liszt composition were included in this satisfying finale to a memorable program.

As a final friendly gesture, Mrs. Gustlin served delicious little cakes and punch, as guests lingered to discuss the many delightful features of the evening.

Benjamin Franklin attended school only about two years—between the ages of eight and ten.

W. C. T. U. Picnic to Be Held Tomorrow in Y. M. C. A.

Members of the Women's Christian Temperance Union who have been anticipating their birthday dinner to be held tomorrow, have been notified that a change has been made in the place where the affair will be held. Early plans were to hold it in Spurgeon Memorial church, the usual meeting place of the Union, but instead it will be in the Y. M. C. A. building next door to the church on Church street.

Every W. C. T. U. member is urged to attend the all-day affair, and bring any guests they may wish to ask. Each member will be expected to contribute sandwiches and a prepared dish to the dinner menu to be served at noon.

Program features will include both vocal and instrumental music as well as short addresses. Among the speakers will be Dr. W. Maxwell Burke and the Rev. Samuel Edgar.

Baby's Arrival is Of Interest Here

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Emley of Garden Grove, formerly of Orange, are receiving congratulations from a host of friends on the arrival of their baby daughter Wednesday, June 22, at St. Joseph hospital.

The little girl has been named Helen Louise, and both she and her mother are reported as getting along nicely. Mr. Emley is principal of the Garden Grove grammar school.

Church Societies

Observe Mid-Summer Night

Traditions attaching throughout English history to the night of June 24, known in Great Britain as "mid-summer night," were related for the benefit of the 32 girls of the Philathea class of the First Presbyterian church who motored to Irvine park Friday evening for a picnic supper together. The legend associated with this night, when the woods are traditionally supposed to be enchanted, was told by Miss Jean Goodwin.

A more modern note was introduced in picnic decorations, which were of an Olympic character, the flags of 26 nations adorning the long tables, which were lit with tri-colored candles. Mrs. E. D. Boynton was credited with arrangements for the affair.

The forenoon hours were devoted to making baby garments and blankets. At noon, the group repaired to the grassy back yard where a covered-dish luncheon was enjoyed. A pergola and walnut trees provided shade for the outdoor dining tables. Assisting Mrs. Crane in her hostess duties were her daughter and granddaughter, Mrs. H. P. Whititt, Porterville, and Miss Margaret Crane of Garden Grove, and Mrs. M. B. Allen, Miss Lucille Allen, Mrs. C. E. Pollins and Mrs. George Tyler.

Mrs. Tugby was in charge of the devotional period and Mrs. Lewis J. Gall presided during the business session. Mrs. Gall announced that T. P. Billhorn, famous singing evangelist of Chicago, was making a gift of 200 of his song books to Calvary church. Mention was made of the Bible classes being planned for children during the summer.

The society will not hold an all-day meeting next month. Instead, the women, together with their husbands and families will enjoy a 6 o'clock dinner July 25 in Anaheim city park, with a talk by a missionary to follow in the evening. Members of Calvary church, Placentia, and the newly organized Calvary church at Belvedere Gardens, are also invited to attend this affair.

The British Empire occupies about one-quarter of the habitable surface of the earth and its population exceeds one-quarter of the estimated number of the human race.

Long Beach guests had brought their scrap book with them, and everyone enjoyed seeing it and its clever illustrations, the work of various gifted artists.

After an informal period of inspecting the beautiful studio and establishing more firmly the bonds of friendship between the two neighboring city organizations, chairs were placed in the two adjoining music rooms, to give the effect of an auditorium, and the formal program presented.

It seemed doubly appropriate that the first number should be one of the host's own compositions, his beautiful "Spring Song," rendered very effectively by the double quartet of the Santa Ana Musical Arts club, Cecyle Fross Willets, Holly Lash Visel, Edith Cornell, Leonora Tompkins, Sally Lee Seales, Mrs. Charles G. Nalle, Irma Huffman May and Marie Bishop.

Irwald Wicks, talented Long Beach violinist and composer, played two numbers, a Polka Song and a Dance, from his own "Norwegian Suite," with Mrs. Wicks as his accompanist. Rollo Alford, also from the beach city, followed with a vocal group, beautifully sung to his wife's accompaniment, "Tally Ho" and other numbers were returned.

The Santa Ana double quartet followed this with a Brahms "Lullaby," and Mr. Gustlin brought the program to a conclusion with piano numbers played with that depth of expression and faultless technique that distinguishes his work. A brilliant concert study and a Liszt composition were included in this satisfying finale to a memorable program.

As a final friendly gesture, Mrs. Gustlin served delicious little cakes and punch, as guests lingered to discuss the many delightful features of the evening.

Benjamin Franklin attended school only about two years—between the ages of eight and ten.

Co-Hostesses Join In Giving Pretty Shower

Mrs. Dwight Hayden of Tustin and Mrs. A. F. Gilmore of Santa Ana were hostesses at an enjoyable party given last week in the latter's home, 1117 Oak street, with Mrs. Walter May of Santa Ana as honored guest at the affair.

Soon after arrival of the guests, Mrs. May was presented with the array of dainty gifts which they had selected for her. At the close of the affair, delicious refreshments were served on trays, in observance of a dainty pink and blue color scheme. Roses were the flowers used.

Those invited were Mesdames M. W. Thome, John Cleary, Charles Cleary, Louis Shannon, William Echols, Robinson, Thomas Young, Mayer, Otto Varta, of Santa Ana and Mrs. Northrop, Newport Beach; Mrs. George Gaylord, Tustin; Mrs. A. J. Larkin, Mrs. J. Aiken and Mrs. Clayton Landreth, San Juan Capistrano; Mrs. Walter McClure, Oceanside, the hostesses, Mrs. Hayden and Mrs. Gilmore, and the honored guest, Mrs. May.

DISTRICT ATTORNEY BACK FROM PARLEY

District Attorney Sam L. Collins returned home late Saturday night from a state district attorney's convention which was held at Globins, Lake Tahoe.

General discussion of law enforcement problems that confront district attorneys and legal angles on unemployment relief occupied the delegates to the conference.

It was decided to hold the convention next year at Santa Barbara. During an afternoon when no business sessions were held, District Attorney Collins enjoyed trout fishing.

SEEK $34,000 FOR CRASH DEATH, HURTS

Action to collect damages amounting to more than $34,000 was filed against Henry Wittmer and Faith Wittmer in superior court today by Virginia Archer, Luis Vaca, Antonio Morales, Juan Torres, John K. Caldwell, Trinidad Morales and Juan Torres Jr. Luis Vaca, 19, was fatally injured in an automobile accident that occurred at the corner of Clair and Magnolia roads on May 24 and other plaintiffs suffered injuries in the same accident, according to the complaint filed.

A total of $10,000 is asked for the loss of the companionship and support of Luis Vaca by his parents. Other damages named in the joint suit against the Wittmers are for car expenses, personal injuries, funeral, hospital and physician bills.

D. A. V. PARLEY HONORS LATE W. J. MURPHY

Members of Jack Fisher chapter returning from the national convention of the Disabled American Veterans of the World War at San Diego last week report a very happy and successful convention.

William Conley of Los Angeles was selected to lead the organization for the coming year, a year that is anticipated to be one of vital importance to all disabled veterans. Bill Conley is well known locally due to his appearances here annually at the head of the Initiatory team of Los Angeles Chapter No. 5 and for the fine record he established while commander of the chapter at Los Angeles. Volney P. Mooney of Los Angeles was re-elected for the seventh successive year to the office of judge advocate.

Efforts of the late administration to limit a resolution to demand payment of the Adjusted Service Certificate to service connected disabled veterans were defeated and all ex-service men were included in the resolution that passed unanimously.

A legislative program was passed but the items were mostly regarding ratings and will not call for additional expenditures. This program is identical to the findings of the recent state convention at Modesto.

A large representation of Jack Fisher chapter was present at the convention and all returned with a fuller realization of the value of the organization to all disabled veterans and the wonderful accomplishments attained during the past year. The delegates attending were Earl B. Hawks, Harry D. Edwards, Louis A. Riehl, H. O. Rasmussen, Frank Wolters and David R. Day.

The opening ceremonies were held at beautiful Balboa park and were featured by the appearance of Madame Ernestine Schumann-Heink, "Mother" of the D. A. V. organization. During the memorial services for members who had passed on during the past year, Madam Schumann-Heink sang the Star Spangled Banner and Taps.

A part of these services were devoted to the memory of William J. Murphy, past national commander, who died last December, the first national commander to pass on. Murphy will be remembered as the organizer of the Orange county unit, being its first commander and being active in all veteran organizations in Santa Ana.

Arrest Long Beach Men As Burglars

Walter W. Watts and Augusta Asplund, Long Beach men, are both being held in the Long Beach city jail, in connection with the burglary of the J. W. McIntosh Packing plant at Wintersburg, several days ago, according to a report on file today at the sheriff's office.

The men were arrested by Long Beach officers after local sheriff's officers had identified a quantity of bacon and hams reported stolen from the plant, which was found in the Long Beach home the men occupied.

According to the complaint filed, Wittmer was driving the car that collided with the car driven by Virginia Archer.

A total of $10,000 is asked for the loss of the companionship and support of Luis Vaca by his parents. Other damages named in the joint suit against the Wittmers are for car expenses, personal injuries, funeral, hospital and physician bills.

SHERIFF'S MEN IN TWO BOOZE RAIDS

Sheriff's officers made two arrests over the week end on liquor charges, lodging the men in jail and confiscating a small amount of liquor.

Burt DeGroote, 32, of Euclid avenue, Garden Grove, was arrested after officers are reported to have found 91 quarts of beer and 15 gallons of beer, the latter in the making, at his home.

M. Mukai, 54, laborer, of Bolsa, was arrested at his home after officers reported they found four cases of beer in his residence.

Approximately 15 persons were sitting around the DeGroote home, sipping beer when Officers C. W. Riggie, E. E. Berry and Earl Nickles entered the place, it was reported.

HARMONY FOUR TO PRESENT PROGRAM

Programmed as The Harmony Four four students of Miss Lorene Croddy will present a delightful program tonight over radio KREG. The quartet will sing under the direction of Miss Croddy.

Members of the quartet are: Ed Park and David Forney, tenors; and Nelson Rogers and Willard Stearns, basses. The quartet will be on the air for 30 minutes, starting at 7 p. m. and among other selections will sing, "Morning" by Oley Speaks; "Old Gray Robe," Huntley; "In Jungle Land," and "Nonsense Serenade."

In addition to a previous presentation over KREG this group has sung at various churches in Santa Ana and Tustin, Tustin high school and Knights of Pythias lodge in addition to other organizations.

Miss Anita Fisher, popular Tustin pianist who has given so many delightful interpretations of her own on the piano at KREG and in public appearances locally, will accompany the quartet in this special broadcast.

PRIZE WINNERS TO BE NAMED TONIGHT

Prize winners in the great "Who's Who in Santa Ana" contest, conducted over radio KREG for the past few weeks, will be announced tonight in the concluding program of this series. A prize of $25 will be awarded some Santa Ana radio listeners who spent a few minutes each week listening to this program.

The program originated for the specific purpose of acquainting listeners with local merchants and the places of business and was sponsored by a group of leading businessmen.

In addition to announcing the name of winners in the contest correct answers to the questions asked during the contest will be given.

SPECIAL CONCERT NUMBERS TONIGHT

A group of special concert selections comprise tonight's offering of musical masterpieces over KREG. The "Wedding of the Winds," by Hall and "Sincerity," by Pignoloni, are two of the most popular waltz compositions and will open the program. Following these, Alfred Cortot, considered by many critics as the foremost pianist of France today, will play "Hungarian Rhapsody No. 2," by Liszt. The program will conclude with an elaborate orchestration of "I Kiss Your Hand, Madame," played by Dajos Bela and his orchestra, and recorded in Europe.

WILL TELL MORE OF INSURANCE HISTORY

Another interesting program sponsored by the Charles Halway Insurance company will be broadcast tonight over radio KREG. The musical part of the program tonight will offer several Hawaiian selections.

This program is most interesting and informative and is telling in an absorbing manner the history of insurance and its development.

LEAD YEAR BRIDE

by Laura Lou Brookman

BEGIN HERE TODAY
Cherry Dixon, 19 and pretty, falls in love with Dan Phillips, newspaper reporter whom her wealthy, aristocratic parents have forbidden her to see. When Cherry learns Dan's telephone messages have been kept from her she steals out of the house to meet him. Her father discovers this and threatens to send her to California. Cherry defies him and orders her to leave.

CHAPTER XII
The telephone shrilled. Cherry dropped the brown felt she had been about to pull over her head and reached for the receiver.

"Hello," she said eagerly, expecting to hear Dan's voice.
"Is this Mrs. Phillips?"
It was a stranger speaking. A man whose voice she did not recognize. Cherry said yes, this was Mrs. Phillips, and waited.

"This is the clerk downstairs," the man went on crisply. "There's someone to see you—Mrs. O'Fallon the name is."

"What? Oh—oh, tell her to come right up! Tell her to come right away!"

A few moments later when there was a light rap Cherry ran to the door, pulled it open and threw both arms about the short, stout figure on the threshold.

"Sarah! Oh, I'm so glad to see you. I'm so glad—"

The rest was muffled against Sarah O'Fallon's substantial shoulder. Sarah's generous arms had gathered the girl into them. She was a Sarah transformed by a long dark blue coat and neat black turban, but her eyes were as blue, her cheeks as pink as Cherry had always seen them.

"Oh, Sarah!" Cherry exclaimed, laughing. There was a suspicious sparkle on her lashes too. "You're crying! You mustn't do that. How did you know how to find me? Oh, there's so much I want to tell you, Sarah, and so many things I want to ask! Here—come inside. Sit down! Sarah, you haven't told me how you found out where I was. And you're crying. How's Mother—?"

The questions came one after the other without a moment's pause for replies.

At last Sarah, mopping her eyes, managed to get out, "You shouldn't have done it, Cherry. You shouldn't have run away like you did."

Her severity was utterly transparent. Sarah's eyes were on her former charge, anxious and adoring, while she pretended to scold.

"Oh, please, Sarah, don't begin that!"

"Just the same you shouldn't have done it! I read in the papers about you being married and all. My little Cherry! I couldn't believe it!"

"I'd do it again," the girl said proudly. "Wait till you know Dan, then you'll understand—"

The older woman was sitting in the big overstuffed chair. Cherry had been perched on the arm of the chair, directly in front of Sarah, and now she slipped to the floor.

"Dan's wonderful!" the girl said, raising starry eyes. "I'd do it again for him!"

"You mean you're really happy?"

"Happier than I've ever been in my life."

Old Sarah slipped a hand over the girl's. "May the Lord take care of you and help you to keep that happiness," she murmured. "Maybe if you feel that way it's for the best."

"Of course it is!" Cherry insisted. "And really, Sarah, there wasn't any other way!"

For Sarah's benefit she reviewed the scene of her last evening at home. With "oh's" and "ah's" and frequent nodding of her head Sarah listened to the story. Cherry described the marriage and the celebration with Dan's friends.

Then it was Sarah's turn to take up the narrative. "Such a night!" she began. "I hope I'll not live through another one! All that we knew was that you'd gone and your mother was crying her eyes out in her room and your father downstairs pacin' back and forth like a wild man. Half the night it went on and not a wink of sleep did I get! And feelin' guilty as I did for knowin' where you'd been off to in the afternoon, I was afraid to speak and afraid not to. Oh, it was terrible! Then in the morning we saw the papers and read how you'd been married. I guess your father took on even worse than he did the night before. He didn't leave the house until almost noon. We could hear their voices—his and your mother's—but it was your father that did most of the talkin'. Finally he left and your mother said she had a headache and was not to be disturbed. She stayed in her room all day, but she had me bring the newspapers and it was easy to tell from the way her eyes were swollen that she was crying around 'em that it wasn't headache."

"I'm sorry," Cherry said slowly. "I didn't know she'd feel so badly."

"What? Not feel badly? With her daughter that seems almost a baby still run off and marryin' someone she doesn't even know? Not feel badly? Oh, Cherry!"

Cherry went down the hall with her. She squeezed Sarah's hand tightly as the door of the elevator car slid open.

"Would she let me come to see her?" the girl asked hesitatingly.

Sarah shook her head. "That's the worst part," she admitted. "It's your father that's so set against it. That's why your mother sent me—"

"Mother sent you!"

"Of course. Late yesterday afternoon she rang and said I was to go out of the house somewhere and telephone the newspaper office and see if I could find out where you

ANN MEREDITH'S MIXING BOWL

How To Freshen Salty Picalilli
"DEAR ANN: I canned some picalilli last fall and it is too salty. Do you suppose I could soak it in cold water and then add more vinegar, etc.—Mrs. F. E. V."

It seems entirely possible to freshen the picalilli in cold water. Salt penetrates so deeply, though, it would be necessary to change the batch a number of times. By the time the salt would be out, much of the flavor would be gone, for mineral salts are quite as soluble as the salt. To bring up the vegetable flavor again I believe I would add some freshly chopped cabbage and celery seed and a very small amount of brown sugar along with the pickling ingredients.

TODAY'S RECIPE
Waffles
4 egg yolks, well beaten with 1-4 cup sugar and 1 teaspoon salt.
2 cups milk (sweet)
4 tablespoons cooking oil or other melted fat
2 cups flour sifted with 2 level teaspoons baking powder
4 egg whites beaten stiff
Waffles on a hot evening aren't the hardest food I can think of to take, gracefully. Some of my readers may differ with me on the question of the energy units in the waffles making one still hotter, but we have to eat to live, and you aren't climbing many hills on a straight diet of lettuce salad, are you?

Drop the egg yolks, sugar and salt into a mixing bowl and beat well. Add the milk, then the sifted flour and baking powder. Mix smoothly, add the oil or melted fat, and whip with the egg beater three minutes. Have the four egg whites beaten stiff and in the pitcher or bowl you will use in pouring the batter.

Pour the batter into the whites and beat well to mix. The batter should run as readily as cream to produce light crisp waffles. Remember, the four eggs in this recipe do their part in thickening the cooking batter.

Don't forget to beat the waffle iron for 10 minutes before baking starts, but don't over-heat the iron, the waffles are sure to stick, then all you can do is to brush the iron with oil and bake until it tempers again.

Don't throw out any reasonable quantity of left-over waffle batter. Put it in a covered dish in the refrigerator and when you want waffles, or muffins, just freshen it up by dropping in an egg and one teaspoonful of baking powder dissolved in a little water. Beat briskly with the egg beater, add a little more milk and flour if necessary, and there you are, a fresh batter ready for anything.

A waffle, without trimmings, has a caloric value of 150, intensive energy-making type.

Have you ever tried serving waffles with crushed fresh fruit? Berries of any kind, crushed and slightly sweetened, are perfect with waffles.

PARISIAN SALAD SECRETS, the current leaflet, offers you fine recipes free of charge this week if you will just send in a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request.

Tuesday's recipe: Coffee Drop Cookies.

They had dinner again at Schroeder's, exchanging news of the day over the appetizing hot food. Their plates were taken away to be replaced by dessert. Abruptly Dan looked up.

It was one of those moments that seem utterly casual when, looking backward, events reshaping entire lives may be seen to have their beginning.

Dan said, "Guess I forget to tell you. Max Pearson's coming back tomorrow."

At a drug store counter she lunched on a sandwich and malted milk and then hurried back to the hotel. It had been agreed between them that Dan was not to telephone her at noon because Cherry expected to spend the day hunting for an apartment.

She did not go out, however, because she was anxious to be on hand when the trunk was delivered. Cherry would take no chance with that trunk. It came about 4 o'clock. By the time Dan arrived she was unpacked everything and was waiting, fresh and radiant in a deep green frock with touches of daffodil yellow that he said made her exactly like the flower.

"Only lovelier," he told her. "Lovelier because—well, you're you!"

She laughed at him from beneath demure lashes. She said that he was ridiculous and how she loved him for it!

Sylvia Sidney, who has the feminine lead in the picture, "Merrily We Go to Hell," now showing at the Fox Broadway theater. Frederic March plays opposite.

"IS MY FACE RED?" PLAYING AT WEST COAST

To borrow a phrase from the breed of chattering columnist it pictures so vividly, "Is My Face Red?" the new RKO-Radio Picture, which opened yesterday at the Fox West Coast theater, is "highly recommended to diversion seekers."

Hollywood long has been the special prey of tattle tales, whose daily gist of gossip has become so much of a problem as the balanced budget.

Now Hollywood has written its answers to these critics in celluloid with a film telling the inside story of the men who write the "inside stuff" on metropolitan papers.

Everyone who has ever wondered about the news-gathering methods of the gossiping columnists (and who hasn't) will find drama and delight in this pungent phase of newspaper work, hitherto untouched by the screen.

Ricardo Cortez gives a compelling performance as the self-centered glib columnist who would sacrifice his friends for a juicy paragraph. Helen Twelvetrees, Jill Esmond, Robert Armstrong, Arline Judge and Zasu Pitts are others in the featured cast, who turn the spotlight of exposure on the tattle-tales of journalism.

"Is My Face Red?" is a sensational and mercilessly colorful as the copy of the columnists it satirizes.

She is helped in this direction, somewhat, when March loses his job. Sober, he writes a play which is a great success. But March can't stand success. He celebrates so disgracefully that she leaves him and returns to her home in Chicago. A later reconciliation is utterly destroyed when March, quite "biffed," is caught by Sylvia affectionately kissing Adrienne Allen, who was his former college sweetheart.

Sylvia, heart-broken, joins her friend Chalcie's swimming party. She deliberately swims out to a hoped-for forgetfulness, but—

Those who see the picture will learn the ending, and will also appreciate the excellent talent of a cast that can make a simple story so realistic, yet entertaining—so dramatic, yet quite satisfying in its final climax.

JOE BROWN COMEDY AT WALKER STATE

Always provocative of laughter and good humor, Joe E. Brown outdoes himself in "Fireman, Save My Child," his newest First National feature frolic which opened yesterday at Walker's State theater.

Joe E. Brown is a big laugh in himself. Everything he does is funny. But when he's in a knock-out comedy there's roaring laughter. Never were there funnier gags or situations than those packed into this picture. It's a "natural"—made to order for Brown's good-natured whimsies.

The hippo didn't seem to mind. In fact he acted very kind, when all the Tintins crawled up on top his big, fat back.

He started moving very slow. Then Duncy shouted, "Oh, let's go!" Somebody waked this fellow up by giving him a whack!

So Coppy slapped the clumsy beast and very soon the speed increased. He waddling made the Tintins bob like corks upon the sea.

"Gee, something seems to tell me that we all will very soon fall flat. I feel myself slipping and I'm nervous as can be."

Just then a little dog ran out. The Tintins heard brave Scouty shout, "Get out of here. You'll scare this beast and he will run away."

"It's hard enough to hang on now, but we are manning, somehow." The dog, however, barked and barked. It seemed to want to play.

This made the hippo rather mad and, for the Tintins, 'twas too bad.

As Mister Hippo swished his head, the whole bunch lost their hold.

And then the hippo swerved around. The Tintins toppled to the ground. It was a very funny sight, as in the dust they rolled.

"I've had enough of that," said one. "Gee, while it lasted, it was fun, but now let's go and watch the girl who walks upon a wire."

They found her practicing nearby. She seemed away up near the sky, and Windy shouted, "Careful, miss, you best not go much higher."

It wasn't long till Duncy thought that, on a wire that was held taut, he too could do some fancy stunts. The girl said, "Come, join me!"

With an umbrella in his hand, brave Duncy promptly took his stand upon the wire. He acted just as nervous as could be.

THE WOMEN

IN THE OLYMPICS

Josephine McKim of Los Angeles, one of the United States' chief reliances in the 100-meter swimming races.

Ethel Catherwood of Canada, winner of the 1928 Olympic high jump title . . . and who, incidentally, was voted the most beautiful girl in the 1928 Olympics.

Stella Walsh of Cleveland, the big hope of the United States to defend its 100-meter dash crown.

Death was the penalty for the woman who dared even to look at the games in the ancient days, but times have changed and this year's classic will have nearly 250 feminine athletes competing for honors in 14 events

By ERSKINE JOHNSON

LEAVE it to the women! They fought their way into the Olympic Games the way their modern sisters battled for the ballot.

Unlike the games of the Tenth Olympiad, to be held in Los Angeles between July 30 and August 14, the ancient Olympic competitions operated on a "men only" policy.

And death was the penalty for women who defied the ancient edict of old Greece forbidding attendance at the games by the fair sex.

In those days of long ago, the feminine contingent obtained admission to the games only by disguising themselves as males.

It was the woman Pherenice, who defied existing orders, took her life in her hands and "crashed the gate" in disguise to see her son, Pisidorus, run in the 100-meter classic.

When he won first place, she revealed her identity by clasping him in her arms.

AFTER some discussion as to whether she should be cast over a cliff for her sacrilege or allowed to live, her persuasion, as well as the daring she had shown, won her immunity, and later the bars to the games were let down for all women.

Estimates of historical students were that some 500 women had been slain up to that time for appearing in the Olympic grandstands, or peeking through knot holes in the fences, if there were fences.

As the result of Pherenice's daring, women of Greece were admitted to the games, and, for a few Olympiads, were even allowed to run in exhibition races, although they were not crowned in victory.

As centuries passed, competition of women in the games gradually attracted more attention, and was regarded as a vital part of the great athletic carnivals.

This year, when the games are held in Los Angeles, nearly 250 women athletes from all over the world will take part in the events, in addition to the thousands of women who will witness the competitions in the huge Olympic stadiums.

THE first appearance of women in the modern series of the games was during the unofficial celebration in Athens, Greece, in 1906, of the tenth anniversary of the revival of the ancient sports carnivals. A group of Danish girl gymnasts gave an exhibition performance.

Later, in 1912, at the Stockholm games, women were permitted to compete for the first time for medals in the shorter running races. There were 13 events in three different sports for women in the 1928 games at Amsterdam.

It was not until the 1928 games that the United States entered a women's track and field team. The Canadian team, however, carried off premier feminine honors.

In the forthcoming games women will be allowed to participate in 14 events in four different sports, track and field, fencing, swimming and diving.

In the track and field sports they will compete in throwing the javelin, the 100-meter race, throwing the discus, the high jump, 80-meter hurdles, and the 400-meter relay race.

Swimming events will include the 200-meter breaststroke, the 100-meter free style, the 100-meter backstroke, 400-meter relay race, and the 400-meter free style race.

IN the diving events, fancy springboard diving and high diving are on the program. In the fencing competitions, women will be allowed to clash only with the foils.

Although the United States has several outstanding women athletes, women of Japan, Canada, Germany, Poland and Holland will give the Yankee girls a run for their money. According to sports followers, women of Canada, and possibly Japan, should give the United States its greatest competition in the track and field events.

In the first place, Canada will send to Los Angeles Ethel Catherwood, winner of the 1928 Olympic high jump title. Mrs. Myrtle Cook McGowen, another Canadian, is one of the fastest sprinters in the world.

In the 100-meter sprint Canada probably will depend upon Jean McClellan, Lillian Palmer, Hilda Strike and Elsa Proctor; on 16-year-old Betty Taylor in the 80-meter hurdles, and on Eva Dawes and Constance Colston in the high jump.

Canada's team of E. M. Smith, F. Rosenfield, M. Cook and J. Thompson, which four years ago won the 400-meter relay title in the new world record time of 48 2/5 seconds, is expected to repeat its performance in the 1932 games.

From far-off Japan, Miss Masako Shimpou, holder of the Japanese women's javelin record of 34.82 meters, will in all probability journey to Los Angeles for the games.

Miss Mitsu Ishizu probably will represent Japan in the shot put, in which event she holds that country's championship. Miss Kinuye Hitomi, all-around star who performed for Japan in the 1928 Olympic Games, died last year, and, as a result, Japan lost her most talented performer.

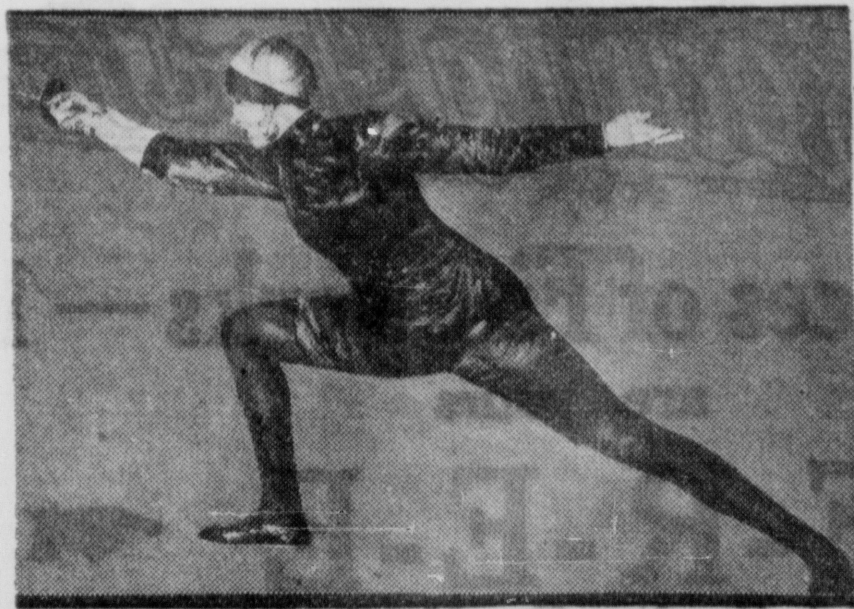

Mildred "Babe" Didrickson of Dallas, Texas, Lillian Copeland of Los Angeles and Billie von Bremmen of San Francisco, are slated to represent the United States in the javelin and discus throws. Edith Jane, of Los Angeles, may also make the team in the javelin event.

Miss von Bremmen recently set an unofficial American discus record with a throw of 122 feet 3 1/2 inches. Miss Copeland is proficient in both the javelin and the discus events, placing second to Halina Konopacka, the Polish star, when the latter won the 1928 title. Miss Copeland hurls the spear around 135 feet.

Although Miss Didrickson also can throw the javelin around that distance, the Texas star is counted upon most heavily in the 80-meter hurdles, holding the world's record for the event in 12 seconds.

IT is expected that Miss Konopacka will again compete, and she is the big foreign threat in the discus. She also is an excellent high jumper. Fraulein Braumuller of Germany also can throw the javelin with the best of them, and is expected to be a real threat.

Miss Sychrova of Czechoslovakia and Miss Clark of South Africa, with times of 12 1/5 seconds, are favorites in the hurdle event. Two Helene Mayer of Germany, who is expected to retain her world's championship in the individual foils in the Olympic fencing competitions.

United States women, Mrs. Nellie Sharka of Newark, N. J., and Mrs. Ann Vrana O'Brien of Los Angeles, have raced over the timbers almost as fast.

Stella Walsh of Cleveland, Ohio, is the big hope of the United States to defend its 100-meter dash crown. Miss Walsh, a Polish-American girl, has run the century in 10 4/5 seconds. Eleanor Egg of Newark, and Evelyn Furtch, 18-year-old school girl of Tustin, Calif., also are star performers in this event.

Eileen Werner, who, according to advance information, will be the only woman track athlete from Australia, won that country's 100-yard dash championship in 11 seconds and will provide plenty of competition if she goes to Los Angeles for the games.

In the high jump event, Jean Shirley, of Philadelphia, is the United States' leading light. She clears the bar at 5 feet 2 inches, a good mark for a woman athlete.

Genevieve Valvoda of Chicago may also compete in this event. Miss C. A. Gisolf of Holland, who can leap 5 feet 1 1/4 inches, is one of the best of the foreign stars.

UPON the shoulders of Helene Madison of Seattle the United States, of course, will pin its hopes in the swimming events. She holds all of the free style records from 50 yards to a mile.

Two brilliant swimming stars were lost to America this year when Martha Norelius of New York turned professional, and Albina Osipowich of Massachusetts decided she would not try out for the team.

Miss Madison has bettered Miss Osipowich's winning Olympic time in the 100 meters by two seconds, and has clipped 11 seconds from Miss Norelius' world record winning time in the 400.

Helen Johns of New York, Eleanor Garatti of San Rafael, Calif., who placed second in the 1928 Olympics, and Josephine McKim of Los Angeles are the Yankee bests in the 100 meters. Leonora Knight of Massachusetts and Miss McKim are favorites in the 400 meters.

In the other swimming events, Frances Bult of Australia; Miss M. J. Cooper of England; Miss Goddard of France; Miss Mary Braun of Holland; Miss Elsa Anderson of Denmark, and 15-year-old Claire Dennis from the Antipodes probably will represent their respective countries.

Miss Anderson recently set a new world's record for the 500-meter free style distance, and Miss Dennis established a world record in the breaststroke. Her time for the event was 3 minutes 8.4 seconds.

KATHERINE RAWLS, 15, of Florida, and Margaret Hoffman of Pennsylvania are the best of the United States' prospects in the breaststroke, but their fastest times are far behind those of foreign swimmers.

The United States will rely upon the swimming ability of Eleanor Holm, Joan McSheehy and Lisa Lindstrom, all of New York, in the 100-meter backstroke. Miss Holm's mark overshadows all previous Olympic records.

Miss M. Baron of Holland, and Fraulein L. Muhe of Germany are the best bets in the foreign competition in this event. Olive Hatch Voight of Los Angeles is certain to obtain a berth on the swimming team for her past performances in the relay.

Georgia Coleman, 19-year-old Los Angeles girl who took second in both the fancy and high diving in the 1928 Olympics, is expected to give the United States a clean sweep in the diving events.

She is the possessor of 12 national championships, Dorothy Poynton, also of Los Angeles, who finished third in the 1928 fancy diving when she was 14 years old; Miss Rawls, who can dive as well as swim, and Helen Meany, winner of the fancy diving event at Amsterdam four years ago, are the other favorites.

Fraulein Helene Mayer of Germany is favored to retain her world's crown in the individual foils in the fencing competitions. Another threat is Mrs. M. B. Freeman of England, who won second place in the last Olympic Games.

24 GUESTS AT CAMP OSCOLA OVER SUNDAY

June 26—Sunday brought 24 visitors to Camp Oscola. The visitors brought in generous supplies of fruit and melons, which the recipients are sharing with the entire camp.

The Sunday morning church service was impressive. The outdoor auditorium on "Chapel Hill" makes a wonderful place for worship. The service was conducted by D. H. Tibbals, Santa Ana Y. M. C. A. secretary, who has the camp in charge. The speaker was Jack Payne, of Rangoon, British Burma, who has spent five years in Y. M. C. A. work there. He was formerly boys work secretary at the Pasadena Y. His talk was of particular interest in the accounts he gave of the boy life in Burma, and the work being done there by the Y to teach the boys how to live better.

Active Camp Days
The past two days have been exceedingly active ones in camp. The boys have entered into the spirit of the camp life and are making the program move in great style. The relationship between boys and leaders, as well as between boys and boys, is remarkable. No problems of discipline have entered into the camp life thus far.

The building project of the Santa Ana boys who are constructing the new fireplaces and stage is proceeding successfully. Forms are being built, and the concrete will be poured Tuesday. Improvements are being made about the flag pole in the parade ground, and an auto parking space is being cleared near the swimming pool, which is also being banked and otherwise improved. These daily tasks are both popular and useful among the boys. With more than 60 boys and 10 men putting in an hour or so of work each day, real results are accomplished and useful instruction and training given to the boys.

Saturday afternoon's ball game with Redlands gave Oscola baseball players a real victory. The final score was 13 to 8. At the end of the fifth inning, the score stood at a tie, 6-6. Redlands went ahead in the sixth, 8-6. In the seventh, the Santa Ana boys went ahead and held the lead to the end of the game. The Oscola team was made up of: R. Walkinshaw, c, H. Youel, p and ss, J. McCarthy, 1st, Chris Demetriou, 2nd and cf, G. Almas, ss and 2nd, I. Gibbs, 3rd, G. Munro, lf, R. Anderson, cf and p, D. Lente, rf, C. Downie, sub. Jones, of Redlands, served as umpire. It was a fine game, with good sportsmanship on both sides.

Camp Baseball
The camp baseball series is gaining lively interest. McCarthy's team won over Demetriou's, and Walkinshaw's aggregation beat Munro's. Gibbs and McCarthy face each other Monday in one of the "classics" of the series.

Thus far a number of boys have been recommended for honors by the "Rag" committee. For the "Blue Rag," Orville Hurd, George Haskell,

HE WINS HANDS DOWN

C. B. Lewis, Tacoma stockman, sure goes "high horse" whenever he gets on "Timberline," the horse shown with him in this picture. "Timberline," Lewis declares, is the tallest horse in the United States. He's 22 hands high—88 inches tall, and is a 5-year-old who may grow some more.

POINT WINNERS OF TROY IN 1944 AGAIN

For the "Brown Rag," an advanced degree: Bob Warren, Ray Walkinshaw, Charles Downie. For the "Red Triangle": William Rasmussen, Lloyd Gibbs, Victor Roslund.

For the "Red Rag," the highest honor yet offered this season: Don Lente, "Pop" Anderson, Dr. Jim Hauoole, Fred Eley and Jack McCarthy.

Campfire Programs
Campfire programs have been some of the best we have ever had. Some fine, serious discussions have been presented, along with much fun. Cabin 10 created a great deal of entertainment by "panning" the Mayor. The following night, the Mayor's cabin retaliated by staging a necktie party for Bob Tannenbaum, of Cabin 10, who was suspected of having led the attack on the Mayor's dignity, and who was convicted on a number of charges. Lewis Tadlock holds the fisherman's record, having landed a 12 lb. trout weighing nearly a pound. He promised to catch a mess to furnish the whole headquarters staff with trout breakfast on Monday, and left a call for daylight Monday morning so as to have time to make his catch.

Olympic Decathlon Candidates Named

CHICAGO, June 27.—(UP)—The three athletes who will represent the United States in the Olympic decathlon at Los Angeles in August were picked in a two-day meet at Evanston over the week end, with first place going to Jim Baugh, Kansas City A. C. Baugh scored 8102.25 points, exceeding the 1928 like the Three-Eye league. And what an infield—Terry, Critz, Jackson and Traynor. And besides, I got Klein. And if he isn't a ball club all by himself, why take him away from the Phillies and watch 'em knock the bottom out of the cellar.

He pulls a surprise in the American, taking Gomez right off the bat. "You like Gomez better than Grove?" I asks. He says yes, so I take Grove quick as 'I can, knowing if he gets 'em both there won't be any race.

He takes Foxx next, and I take Gehrig. I hold my breath for fear he's going to pick Ruth but he says Ferrell. So I get the Babe. Well, my team will make money, anyhow. When we finish we have this lineup:

Line	Player	Team
1	Gomez	Phillies
2	Foxx	Red Sox
3	Gehrig	Yankees
4	Ruth	Yankees
5	DiMaggio	Giants
6	Simmons	Phillies
7	Simmons	Phillies
8	Ruffing	Phillies
9	Chapman	Phillies
10	Chapman	Phillies
11	Kamm	Phillies
12	Blaschard	Phillies

Pretty close, don't you think? I admit he's got a pitching staff what with that "Goofy" Gomez and those three right-handers, Easahaw, Ferrell and Pipgras.

But mine isn't exactly a set-up. But listen! Suppose you got together such teams as these. Who would swing the salary checks? The Federal Reserve bank, I guess.

WILSON AND MACDONALD: A COMPARISON

The international conference meeting at Lausanne to devise ways of meeting the present world distress is being followed by the people of the whole world with the greatest interest and concern. Much is hoped from this conference in the problem of attacking the whole reparation and inter-allied debt problem. It is all but universally recognized that reparations and debts underlie our present world distress, and that the world cannot rise from the present financial and business chaos until that problem is settled by the great nations involved.

The world is fortunate to have as chairman of that conference Sir Ramsay MacDonald, the British premier. Whatever may be said of his statesmanlike ability, he has a cogent and arresting way of stating conditions which cannot be denied. Like President Wilson during the period of the war, he has a gift of expression which creates public opinion. History will never overlook the great speeches of Wilson before and during the war. It has been said, and truly said, that his public statements did more to break down the German morale during the war than the onslaught of the allied divisions on the field of battle. Those who have followed the utterances of the British premier during the past two years have recognized the same force in him. His phrase that the conference must halt the drift toward "world catastrophe" has been quoted far and wide. Sentences like this, "There is nothing smaller than a world, there is nothing less than a system crumbling beneath our feet. None of us can stay out of the miseries which are gathering about us," are trumpet calls to drastic action on the part of the nations of the world. Europe listened with bated breath during the critical years of the war to the voice of Wilson, the phrase maker and the idealist. America might well listen to Ramsay MacDonald, the phrase maker and the idealist of the precarious years of peace.

It has been frequently said that the interests of the world are settled around the conference table, not on battlefields. When the smoke of battle has cleared away, and certain victory achieved, the problem is only at the beginning of solution. It is fourteen years since the armistice, and the problems of the war are quite as aggravated as they were then. The world is crying aloud for a Moses to lead the people once more into a land of promise. Let us hope that such a man is Ramsay MacDonald. As Wilson stood above the din of the world in battle fifteen years ago, so today stands Ramsay MacDonald, arresting the nations with his matchless phrases and his world consciousness.

TOO SHORT

Travel has its hazards for aliens. Antonio Bertone who had lived in Buenos Aires for eight years went home to Italy on a visit. When he undertook to return to Buenos Aires the immigration department ruled against him because he is only four feet five inches tall, too short, in the estimation of the department, to hold a job. The immigration department has set up a minimum height requirement and the ruling was upheld by the Supreme Court. It would have been easier for Antonio to stifle the pangs of nostalgia than to increase his height.

GOOD NEWS FROM 1931

There hasn't been much good news in the reports from the year 1931. Almost everything is gloom. But here is a bright spot. The National Association for the Advancement of Colored People reports that during 1931 there were fourteen lynchings in the United States—as compared with twenty-five in 1930.

Considering that a bad depression year usually intensifies class and racial antagonism and makes lynchings more likely rather than less, this is good news indeed. The reduction is almost fifty per cent. Particularly is this a reason for rejoicing, for some years previous had not had good records.

Now for some real fun! A pleasure boat anchored off Long Beach has a diving bell adjunct which will enable sightseers to drop in safety to the bottom of the sea, and take a look around. Thus can man see how the other poor fish live.

VALIANT WORK UNDER THE SMOKE SCREEN

Alonso E. Wilson, executive Director of the American Business Men's Prohibition Foundation, lives in Chicago. Being near at hand at the time of the Republican National Convention, Mr. Wilson saw a lot of smoke and rushed in to do what he could. He came out with an armful of valuables, in the shape of fourteen points, which to his mind indicated a "dry triumph."

Apparently his eyes were so filled with smoke that he was unable to see what caused the fire. We suggest that he call a round-table conference of his American Business Men and that he lay upon the table the following document:

First, the text of the eighteenth amendment which outlaws alcohol and prohibits the manufacture, sale or transportation of alcohol for beverage purposes within the bounds of the United States.

Second, the text of the Prohibition Plank of the Chicago National Republican Convention, which proposes to enact a twentieth amendment by the Convention method which amendment will quietly and effectively legalize the outlaw; will take the eighteenth amendment out of the Constitution, and will return the control of alcohol to the states, where it was before we had prohibition.

By this time Mr. Wilson's eyes may be clear enough so that he can see that Mr. Walter Lippmann is right when he says that the Republican Prohibition platform will, if carried out, take the eighteenth amendment out of the Constitution, and as Mr. Arthur Brisbane says: "It insists on keeping the fine things that prohibition has brought, but that nonsense is a mere sop to Anti-Saloon Leaguers."

We recall the story of a fire which was destroying an art store full of choice paintings and sculpture. An excited young man rushed into the building and brought out an armful of treasures. They proved to be a bunch of cuspids the janitor had piled up as he was doing his nightly work.

Mr. Wilson gets the asbestos medal for the champion "bone" of the year.

A man just back from South America says that things are so bad down there that they're offering three birds in the bush for one in the hand.

REVOLUTION IN SIAM

The King of Siam has come out on top, though not quite as exalted as formerly. His powers are no longer absolute. He has legalized all the acts of the People's party under whose banner the revolutionists took over the power Friday. Furthermore, he accepted their plan of a constitution, after which he was proclaimed King again.

Some monarchs could profit by a lesson from Prince Albert, consort of Queen Victoria who believed that the secret of maintaining a throne in the face of increasing unrest among a people was in not hanging onto territory and monarchical prerogatives until the last moment. "Then," says Hector Bolitho in his book on "Albert the Good," "they were obliged to run away, afraid and humbled. In England and Belgium, the people were given their concessions, just before they themselves realized that their own power might allow them to take them. Thus there are 'tricks in every trade.'"

The revolutionaries were complimentary to the king, as revolutionaries go. They said they had no objection to him, but that his relatives were grafting on their offices.

The King of Siam is sovereign of a constitutional monarchy now. It was unusually sane and successful revolution. Unless all reports of King Prajadhibok are very much distorted by his press agent, he is an enlightened king earnestly desirous of promoting the welfare of his people and the people are wise in not exiling a trained, educated, competent executive who has revealed a disposition to work in harmony with them. And this last he will have to do or else be removed from the throne altogether.

These are hard times for a king to find another job. And the supply of kings has clogged the market.

New Speed Records in Advance of Olympiad

The San Bernardino Sun
A pleasant and interesting phenomenon of the current year is the smashing of track records. There has been a regular epidemic of speed in running events. At a recent intercollegiate meet five world track records were broken and one tied, six records were broken and one tied, and two American records were broken. Athletes in local meets in various places are smashing records, too.

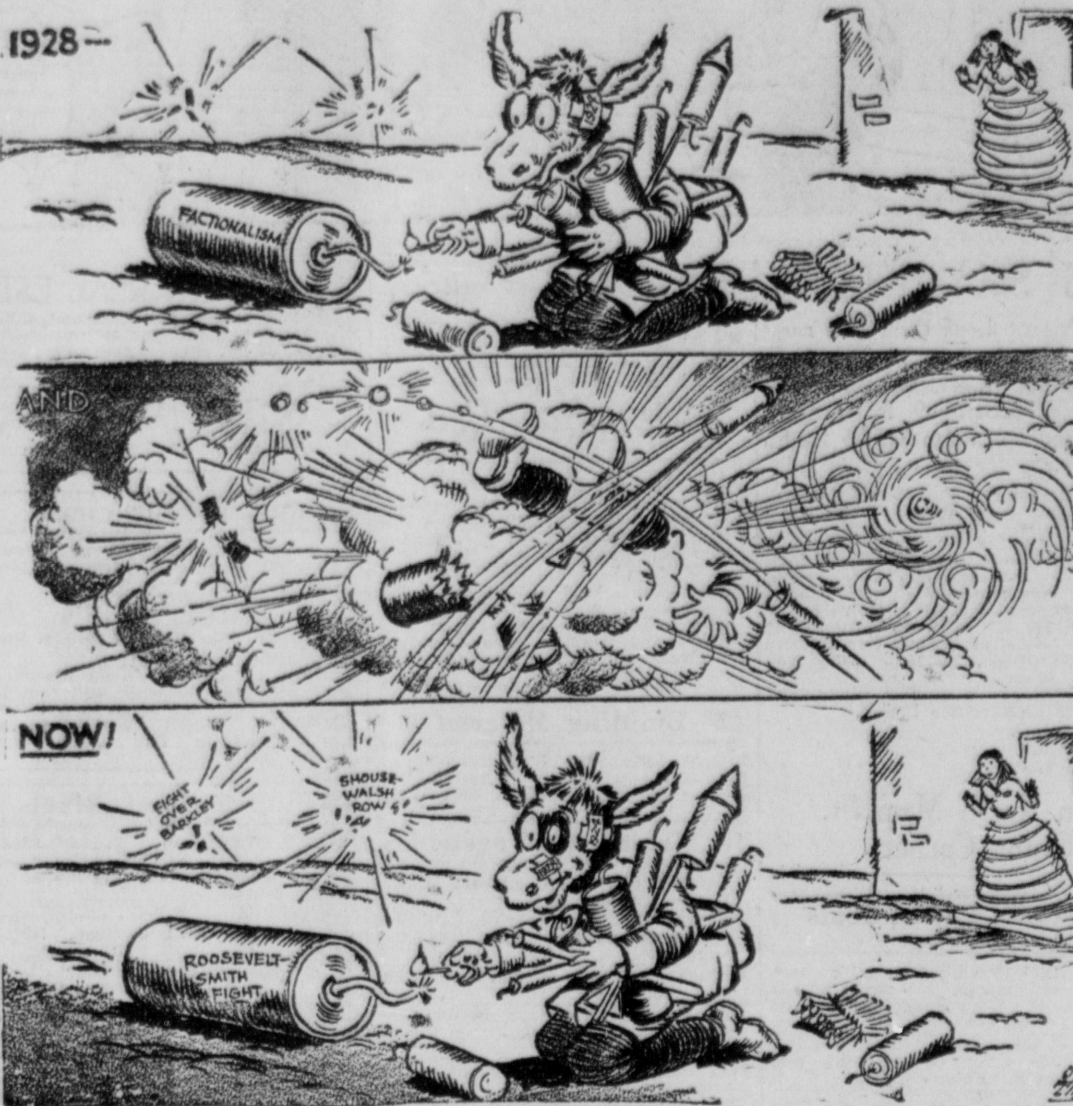

No one is sure he has the explanation for the burst of athletic accomplishment. Some modest athletes say it is because of better training methods. It is suggested that the approaching Olympic Games have aroused great interest in the past year or two and have brought out more competitors.

There is a further fascinating possibility. It may be that the human race is becoming healthier and stronger and better able to control muscles and coordinate mental and bodily activities. Supposedly effete modern athletes probably could put to shame the Homeric heroes and the doughty knights of the age of chivalry.

Her Example

The Oakland Tribune
Mrs. Ruth Bryan Owen, defeated for reelection to the House, has set an example interesting to the country and particularly to the other "lame ducks" in Congress. She will resign in December so that the man who defeated her may be installed and serve with the least possible delay and under the spirit of the amendment which is being put to the separate states for a vote. Mrs. Owen has long been a supporter of the so-called lame duck amendment. She has shown she can practice what she preaches and, also, be graceful in defeat.

More Truth Than Poetry

LOOKING BACK

I feel a thrill of sentiment
When thinking of the peace and charm
And dreaming of the calm content
I knew upon the dear old farm.
I hear the cows come lowing home,
Again I scent the breath of hay
That came across the gathering gloom
When sunset marked the close of day.
Yet very keenly I'm aware
I hated it, when I was there.

My school days fondly I review;
They seem profound unending joys,
The skies seem an eternal blue,
And what fine souls the girls and boys!
I often wish I might return—
Leave this hard world of scheming men—
I know I'll never cease to yearn
To be a boy at school again.
But back in 1883
The schoolhouse seemed a jail to me.

We rarely tell ourselves the truth
When, grown to fifty, more or less,
We say the dear old days of youth
Were days of perfect happiness.
If with an honest, searching mind
Our adolescence we review
It's pretty certain we will find
That children have their troubles, too,
Which seem as tragic in their ken
As those which come to grown-up men.

MACAULAY AND THE COMING CAMPAIGN

There are a few great classic statements regarding politicians and campaigns that should be reprinted and widely distributed during every American campaign; if every aspirant to public office in the United States really believed and acted in the light of these classic statements, American politics would realize a re-birth of reality.

Today I commend to all candidates in the coming campaign the statement Lord Macaulay made to his constituency when running for parliament from Leeds about a century ago.

"The practice of begging for votes is, as it seems to me, absurd, pernicious, and altogether at variance with the true principles of representative government."

"To request an honest man to vote according to his conscience is superfluous."

"Seats in the house of commons ought not to be given, like rooms in an almshouse, to urgency of solicitation; and a man who surrenders his vote to caresses and supplications forgets his duty as much as if he sold it for a banknote."

"I hope to see the day when an Englishman will think it as great an affront to be courted and fawned upon in his capacity as an elector as in his capacity as a jurymen."

"I will give no pledges; I will not bind myself to make or to support any particular motion.

"The great beauty of the representative system is that it unites the advantages of popular control with the advantages arising from a division of labor."

"Just as a physician understands medicine better than an ordinary man, just as a shoemaker makes shoes better than an ordinary man, so a person whose life is passed in transacting affairs of state becomes a better statesman than an ordinary man."

"In politics, as well as every other department of life, the public ought to have the means of checking those who serve it."

"If a man finds that he derives no benefit from the prescription of his physician, he calls in another. If his shoes do not fit him he changes his shoemaker."

But when he has called in a physician of whom he hears a good report, and whose general practice he believes to be judicious, it would be absurd in him to tie down that physician to order particular pills and particular draughts."

"And in the same manner, it would, I think, be absurd in him to require positive pledges and to exact daily and hourly obedience from his representative."

It might not be a bad idea to clip this expression of statesmanship from Lord Macaulay and send it to your political representatives.

CAMPING

It is getting near time when all healthy children turn their faces toward the open country. I am hoping that many of them will be able to march in the direction they face and I am writing to ask fathers and mothers and cousins and aunts to turn to and help all they can. I am asking the Camp directors to lend all possible aid.

You see these times are our times. It isn't going to help us any to sit down and mourn our losses. Certainly it isn't going to help the children get to the country. Let's count our resources and see how they can be stretched to cover open air vacations for the children who so sadly need them after a winter spent with discontented worried grownups.

The country is all there, sunshine and wind and water and hill, all ready and waiting. The cows are in the pasture and the fish are in the lake. The camp buildings are ready as usual. The money necessary to span the distance between the two is likely to appear large in its absence. Something has to be done to adjust matters.

Could fathers and mothers and children cheerfully accept simple food for the summer weather? Could they be satisfied with good milk, eggs, vegetables and bread and butter? Could they do without meat? Could they forget about desserts? Would they enjoy fruit as it came in its season instead of the riches of the world's orchards? In short, could they live as country children often live for the greater part of the year, on the products of the local farms?

If so, couldn't the camp directors and the farmers and the other people who make summer hopes for children possible, scale down their prices to the level of simple necessities? Even if you had to be content with a day's wages instead of interest on your money, couldn't it be done for this year? Simple diet, plenty of fresh air, less personal attendance and more simple occupations like walking and swimming, would not be too expensive. What costs is the staff, equipment, and carrying charges. Maybe they can be scaled down to such slim proportions as to enable a few children to edge past them into camp?

If the old prices are to prevail the children cannot go to camp. If they cannot go to camp the camp must close. For the sake of the children, camp must be kept going. A little common sense, a little adjustment on both sides, a common acceptance of a condition, ought to enable us to get going.

The family ought to plan on having a couple of weeks in the open. These days when many of us have no work we can enjoy the holiday to the extent of leaving town behind and living in camp for a couple of weeks. The camp camps are a godsend for families who have a car and enough money for gas and oil and staple groceries for ten days living and a few hundred miles run.

Don't put the idea away as impossible. Children and parents need time out in the open air. Make an effort to get it for the children and for yourselves. Camp directors, boarding farms, resorts, HELP. You are needed and the people need you. New days, new ways!

(Mr. Patri will give personal attention to inquiries from parents and school teachers on the care and development of children. Write him in care of this paper, enclosing stamped, addressed envelope for reply.)
